FAKED ATTACK IS SPARK THAT STARTED WAR

Evidence Shows Gestapo Agents Dressed in Polish Uniforms Raided Own Radio Station

UNFOLDS IN AFFIDAVIT

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Nuernberg, Dec. 20—(AP)—The first full story of the spark that set off World War II—a fake attack on a German radio station staged by gestapo agents dressed in Polish army uniforms—was unfolded today before the international military tribunal.

As the war crimes trial was recessed for the Christmas holidays, American prosecutors submitted a gestapo official's story of the raid, naming the assassinated "hangman," Reinhard Heydrich, as the man who engineered the coup which Hitler used as the excuse for the Polish invasion—crying to the world that Germany had been attacked first.

The story was told in the affidavit of Alfred Naujocks who said he led a company of gestapo agents dressed in Polish uniforms in a raid on the German radio station at Gleiwitz on Aug. 31, 1939, the day before the invasion. The raiders broadcast incendiary remarks in Polish and then left behind the bullet-ridded bodies of drugged German concentration camp prisoners, also dressed in Polish uniforms, as "evidence," Naujocks said.

The affidavit was presented near the end of the session, when the tribunal recessed the trial until Jan. 2 over the protest of Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor, who said another week will be needed after the holiday to complete the American case against the 22 Nazi leaders and six organizations on trial.

Naujocks, in his affidavit, said the fake attack with a company of disguised gestapo men "should make it appear that Polish soldiers were attacking German troops."

The evidence concerning the gestapo was presented after U. S. prosecutors completed their case against Hitler's elite guard (SS), presenting documents to show that SS surgeons fired poisoned bullets into concentratoin camp prisoners and carefully recorded the symptoms accompanying the slow death of their victims.

Details of the notorious activities of the black-shirted Elite Guard were unfolded before the international military tribunal by American prosecutors to support their charges that the SS and five other once-powerful Nazi organizations should be convicted as criminal groups.

The poisoned bullet experiments resulted in the deaths of three out of five prisoners selected, SS records disclosed.

The prosecution also recounted the experiments, previously reported at the Dachau war crimes trial, in which women prisoners were used to rewarm frozen men with the heat of their naked bodies.

Progress Now Being Made By Ministers

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Dec. 20—(AP)—The foreign ministers of Soviet Russia, Great Britain and the United States were reported making steady progress as they went into the fifth day of their conference today, but there were indications they did not expect to finish by Christmas.

The first intimation that the meeting might go over into next week and possibly continue after Christmas was disclosed by informed quarters that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes planned to attend the annual Christmas eve dinner of the American colony Monday.

So far there has been no official estimate as to how long the conference would last, but observers pointed out that the ministers had before them a multiplicity of problems, some of which were exxtremely complicated, and that disposition of these issues would naturally require time.

Byrnes and Bevin conferred with Soviet Commissar V. M. Molotov only an hour and 15 minutes yesterday and today's meeting, scheduled to start at 4 p. m., also was expected to be short because of a reception which Molotov planned for 6 p. m.

There was no definite information as to which of the numerous problems on the agenda had been under discussion or just how far the ministers had gone toward disposition of any of them. Strict secrecy continued to surround the discussions.

Observers said, however, that the talks were proceeding smoothly and in an atmosphere of cordiality and good humor. This spirit was reflected yesterday at a luncheon which Molotov gave for his two guests and their advisors.

Stalin, just returned to Moscow after a 68-day vacation, received both Byrnes and Bevin yesterday and the Russian leader was reported looking "well and rested."

PATTON NOT SO GOOD

Heidelberg, Germany, Dec. 20—(AP)—Gen George S. Patton, Jr., took a slight turn for the worse today when he contacted a respiratory infection which was reported delaying his recovery from paralysis and a broken neck sustained in an automobile accident.

The midday medical bulletin had reported an uncomfortable night.

McVay Freed On One Count; Guilty Another

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—Acquitted on one charge, Navy Capt. Charles B. McVay 3d waited today for the unhurried routine of court martial procedure to run its course an a second count. Both grew out of the loss of his ship, the heavy cruised Indianapolis, last July.

After slightly more than two hours' deliberation yesterday, the military tribunal found "not proved" a charge of culpable inefficiency. But the court announced no report on the navy's contention that McVay was negligent.

Under the rules of court martial, any finding of guilt is withheld untilthe verdict can be reviewed by the judge advocate general, the bureau of personnel, the chief of naval operations and finally by the secretary of the navy. The latter may lessen or vacate any sentence but may not inincrease it.

The negligence charge against McVay was based on the accusation that he failed to cause a zigzag course to be steered through an area where enemy submarines might be encountered.

The inefficiency count, on which he was acquitted, alleged that he failed to issue and see carried out a "timely" order to abandon ship.

The heavy cruiser went down enroute from Guam to Leyte with the loss of 880 lives.

The military court began its hearing December 3. Navy legal authorities estimated the review process would require at least a month.

Indiana Awaiting Jimmy's Arrival

Indiana, Pa., Dec. 20—(AP)—The swirling, drifting snow that has transformed this community into a Christmas car snow scene forced Actor Jimmy Stewart's family to give up plans to meet him in Pittsburgh today, but it failed to dampen their spirits.

"We're just crazy to see him," the ex-colonel's mother exclaimed.

"He said he'd be here the 20th, but he's coming by train and I'm afraid he's been delayed," Mrs. Stewart explained, adding:

"We're expecting a wire every minute, and we're all waiting with outstretched arms."

New York Digging Out After Storm

New York, Dec. 20—(AP)—The city's heaviest snowstorm in two years was over today, the sun was out, and a reinforced sanitation department was at work clearing streets. The snowfall varied in depth from eight inches at Battery Park to drifts of two feet in the suburbs.

Christmas shoppers splashed through slush from store to store and except for some transportation facilities, the city's activities were normal.

Two deaths were attributed to the storm.

Port of embarkation officials said thousands of returning soldiers were delayed by the storm yesterday when only five out of 13 ships moved into New York Bay. Others lay at anchor off Ambrose Light, their skippers unwilling to proceed when the storm cut visibility to half a mile.

Operations at La Guardia Field were resumed at 2:20 a. m. today.

Winds and Frost Still Keep Icy Hand On Keystone State

By the Associated Press

Winter, which sneaked into the nation's autumnal weather scene a couple of weeks before its official entry date, appeared ready today to continue holding the climatic spotlight for the next few months.

The federal weather bureau reported a temporary break in the prolonged cold wave which has gripped a wide section of the country for the past several days. But forecasters said a new mass of cold air was moving in from central Canada and would hit the Dakotas and Minnesota tonight.

A blanket of snow extending from the Rockies eastward into New England and into the south, with the heaviest falls in the eastern section.

Winds and frost still kept an icy hand over the keystone state, hampered transportation to and from many communities.

An average of nine inches of snow covered most of the southeast part of the state in a white blanket and weathermen predicted the snow would remain until Christmas. Philadelphia has not had a "white yuletide since 1930."

The raging storm brought death to at least nine persons. Scores of others were injured. Many schools and colleges closed down when roads became impassable. Athletic contests scheduled

ALL FATHERS ARE OUT FROM UNDER DRAFT

Selective Service Quiets Speculation That May Lead to Induction of Only 18 Year Olds

A NEW CUT IN POINTS

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—All fathers are out from under the draft today but selective service quieted speculation that this might lead soon to inducting 18 year olds only.

The end to the drafting of fathers coincides with a new reduction in army and navy point scores. But a high official of selective service said veterans are not re-enlisting in sufficient numbers to narrow the draft any further.

This means, said this official who asked anonymity, that temporarily at least, single men 18 through 25 must fill replacement needs of the army and navy.

As has been the case since the end of the war, however, the great majority of those drafted will be youths becoming 18.

In halting the father draft yesterday, selective service also ruled that men with three or more children will not be permitted to enlist.

These fathers are "not acceptable to the armed forces", local draft boards were notified, but men with one or two children may volunteer.

Selective Service also disclosed that because of a halt on all inductions over the holidays, only about 30,000 men will be called up this month, as against a total request for 50,000 for the army and 10,000 for the navy.

The army and navy both reduced their discharge point scores yesterday, making another 837,000 men and women eligible for release.

Effective Dec. 31 the army cut the enlisted men's score from 55 to 50 and the officers' from 73 to 70. The announcement said this would qualify 600,000 to leave the service.

Effective Jan. 1 the navy reduced scores to 36 for enlisted men, 43 for officers, 23 for enlisted WAVES and 29 for WAVE officers, a one-point drop all around. The department said 237,000 would benefit.

MacArthur In Disagreement With Russians

San Francisco, Dec. 20—(AP)—American Broadcasting Company Correspondent Larry Tighe reported today from Tokyo that General MacArthur and the Russians had disagreed over which of the Japanese home islands Soviet forces w uld occupy, and that as a result Russians will not participate in the occupation at all.

Furthermore, Tighe said, MacArthur reportedly told the U. S. state department yesterday that if he were not let alone, and if Russia were allowed any further participation in occupation affairs, he would resign.

"First the Russians wanted to bring an army over here," the c rrespondent asserted. "MacArthur said no. He would permit them to bring one division. But they insisted that they be allowed to occupy Hokkaido, northernmost of the main islands. MacArthur again said no, with the implication that if the Russians ever got into Hokkaido they'd never be disl dged.

"MacArthur offered instead to let the Russians into southernmost Kyushu, which would put American troops between the (Russian) homeland and the occupying force. Then the Russians said no. MacArthur's answer to that amounted to 'all right, don't send an occupation force; we don't need it anyway.'"

Chinese Reds Greet Marshall At Shanghai

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, Dec. 20—(AP)—General George C. Marshall arrived today on his mission to end internal strife in China—and as he stepped from his plane, Chinese Communists asked the government to agree to an immediate, unconditational cessation of hostilities, Lu Ting-Yi, Communist peaceparley delegate, told The Associated Press.

Marshall is expected to meet with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek at Nanking tomorrow to discuss the situation. The meeting will be their first since the Cairo conference.

Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Moosa, at Chungking, reported the Communist move toward a cease-fire agreement, and said Lu also informed him that Red Leader Chou En-Lai would seek an audience to present the Communist case to Marshall.

The American special envoy stepped briskly from a C-54 transport plane from Manilo at Shanghai's Kiangwan airfield this afternoon and proceeded to the Cathay hotel for conferences with Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. commander in China.

In Chungking yesterday, central government and Communist leaders alike were reported ready to "go the limit" in making peace concessions to impress General Marshall. The date of the forthcoming peace parley between the two parties has not been announced.

Coast Socialite Is Guilty of Killing

San Francisco, Dec. 20—(AP)—Socialite Annie Irene Mansfeldt, charged with the slaying of Nurse Vada Martin, supposed love rival, was convicted of manslaughter last night by a superior court jury which deliberated 4 hours and 38 minutes.

Next Wednesday the same jury of six men and six women, who sat through the three and a half week court battle, will again convene to determine if the 45-year-old San Francisco matron was sane when she shot the pretty, 36-year-old Baltimore nurse last Oct. 4.

Mrs. Mansfeldt, widow of wealthy Dr. John H. Mansfeldt, who committed suicide a few hours after the tragedy, pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. Under California law she now must stand trial on the second half of the plea.

If found sane, she automatically will be sentenced to 10 years on the manslaughter conviction. If found insane she will be committed to an institution.

Chief Defense Counsel Vincent Hallinan said last night he will appeal.

Congress Ends Session Highlighted by Stubborn Attitude Toward Executive

Letter To Santa On Way To the North Pole

Barrow, Alaska, Dec. 20—(AP)—The letter Chas. Nelson of Chicago addressed to "Mr. Santa Claus, North Pole, Alaska," almost made it.

Principal George Wilson of the Point Barrow day school for Eskimo said the letter had been delivered to him and he would see that it was forwarded to its proper destination."

Barrow is Alaska's northernmost community.

Lines Holding In Battle Of "The Merger"

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—Opposing congressional lines in the battle of the merger, showed no signs of cracking today despite President Truman's request that army, navy and air forces be unified under a single civilian secretary.

First members of the house and senate military committees to comment were for the plan, as they have been all along. Members of the naval committees were still against it.

Only committee member deviating from this lineup was Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military group. He already had joined with Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga(of the house naval committee in proposing a separate air force with cabinet representation instead of a merger of the services.

Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate military committee told a reporter "we will have a good bill to carry out the president's ideas shortly after the holidays."

Senator Hill (D-Ala), a military committee member and author of one unification bill, declared "I favor closing hearings at once and starting to work on legislation. There are no material differences between the president's basic plan and the bills on which we have held hearings."

Vinson loosed a bitter blast against the White House proposal.

"It would concentrate the greatest military power in the world today in the hands of one man, a man not responsible to the electorate or congress, a military chief of staff of the combined forces that included the National Guard of the sovereign states," the naval committee chairman said in a statement.

New Chairman Of Dem Party Takes Over

Harrisburg, Dec. 20—(AP)—The 1946 political campaign got under way "immediately" with J. Warren Mickle's election as Democratic state chairman.

The "immediately" was Mickle's own brief comment as he stepped up yesterday to his new rank by acclamation at the state committee's meeting, called to accept David L. Lawrence's resignation, leaving the latter free to become mayor of Pittsburgh next montn.

Mickle hasn't yet settled on his own successor as committee secretary, he said. His first plans call for arrangement of a schedule of district meetings "in the very near future" to organize for next November's election of a governor, U. S. senator, and members of congress and the general assembly.

His election went through with but one hitch—an unsuccessful attempt by Committeeman Thomas Smith, of Washington county, to offer Harvey Stewart of his county in opposition. That failed because a seconding attempt by State Rep. W. J. Lane of Washington county was ruled out, since Lane is not a committeeman and had no proxy. Nominations were closed, and the committee had Mickle cast its ballot for himself.

The new chairman told the committee he regarded Democratic victory in the state next year as "inevitable, because we are in tune with the times," while "the policy of the Republican party in Pennsylvania—as in the nation—is a do-nothing policy."

Like retiring chairman Lawrence and U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, Mickle sized-up the big, immediate job as one of organization, and said he will "give special attention to the rural counties."

BILL FOR CONEMAUGH RESERVOIR APPROVED

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—The house approved a conference report on a deficiency appropriation bill including $125,175,000 for navigation and flood control.

The bill provides among Pennsylvania items, $3,000,000 for the Conemaugh river reservoir. It must be approved by the senate before going to President Truman for final signature.

Many Suggestions Made By President Truman In Special Messages Are Left Unsettled

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—The 79th congress, which spanned the transition from war to peace from President Roosevelt to President Truman, today ends the session it started last January 4.

Barring a last-minute upset in plans, it leaves the capital tonight to return for its second—and "election year"—session on January 14.

It leaves behind a record of stubbornness toward the man who last April moved from the vice president's rostrum in the senate to the White House office vacated by the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It hasn't taken kindly, and certainly not eagerly, to many of the suggestions Harry S. Truman has made in almost a dozen special messages.

Although its tally of "things undone" is a long one, the 79th congress, perhaps more than any of its recent predecessors, made its voice heard 'round the world by the things it did.

It ratified the United Nations charter; it overwhelmingly enacted a law to give living effect to this country's participation in UNO; it appropriated new money to the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration; it extended the lend-lease program and the reciprocal trade agreements act, and it wrote into law the Bretton Woods international monetary agreements.

In doing those things it followed the recommendations of both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman.

On the domestic front it:

Appropriated approximately $62,000,000,000 while a two-front war was in progress and then, after the last shots had been fired, took back some $52,000,000,000 of current and past year allotments that hadn't been used.

Extended the draft law until next May 15.

Raised the national debt limit to $300,000,000,000.

Extended price controls until the middle of 1946.

Rewrote the servicemen's G. I. bill of rights.

Compromised with the president on return of employment service offices to the states by ordering their return around next April 1 instead of retaining them under federal control until mid-1947 as Mr. Truman wanted.

Voted its 435 house members annual expense allowances of $2,500 each, which the senate declined to approve for itself.

But congress put off until next year action on:

The multi-billion British loan proposal.

Pensions and pay raises for congressmen.

Private Has Single Point For Discharge

Honolulu, Dec. 20—(AP)—Pvt. William G. Pickett, stationed at Bellows Field, whs accumulated exactly one point toward discharge yet his record includes:

Four years in battle areas, service on more than 35 ships, including one torpedoed, shelled and sunk; service on most of the seven seas.

Answer — He spent five years in the merchant marine, was drafted for army service just before V-J Day.

President's War Powers Extended

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—President Truman is assured of another six months of war powers which, among other things, include rationing.

The administration failed to obtain a hoped-for one year extension when the senate concurred yesterday, 31 to 30, with a house approved bill setting up the lesser period.

The bill goes back to the house because of a senate amendment setting Dec. 31 as the deadline for members of the armed forces to apply for naturalization, and providing that only persons in the service when the measure becomes law may apply.

The extended war powers authorize treasury sale of up to $5,000,000,000 of securities to the federal reserve system without going into the open market; disposal of property seized for war purposes; waiver of navigation and inspection laws to speed movement of troops; and exemption of valunteer employes such as ration board members from the Hatch act banning political activity by federal workers.

FACT-FINDING BOARDS FACE STIFF TESTS

Panel In General Motors Case Planning First Public Hearings After Preliminary Meeting

ANOTHER IS IN RECESS

By the Associated Press

President Truman's first fact-finding boards, studying wage disputes in the oil and automobile industries, faced crucial tests today as they prepared decisions on the question involving consideration of profits and prices in recommending a possible pay increase.

The panel in the General Motors case planned its first public hearings today, but Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison said after yesterday's preliminary meeting with the company and the CIO-United Auto Workers Union that it would recess until Saturday to rule on whether to accept testimony on profits and possible price boosts.

He said General Motors had refused to show its books to answer the Union's claim that it could absorb a 30 per cent wage hike. Garrison also said that GM said prices are a matter to be discussed with the Office of Price Administration and are of no concern to the union or the fact-finding board.

Meanwhile, the panel studying the oil wage dispute was in recess until tomorrow when it will make its ruling on the question, after which it will hear arguments from both sides.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach moved to end the 50-day old strike of some 4,000 AFL employes of Greyhound Bus lines in 18 eastern states. He offered to appoint a third fact-finding board, provided the strikers, members of the AFL Amalgamated Street Railway and Motor Coach Employes, return to their jobs.

His offer was not accepted immediately by either the union or the strikebound Pennsylvania and Central Greyhound Companies, pending further study of the labor secretary's proposal. The companies were asked to reinstate the strikers without penalties and to make any wage increases finally granted retroactive to Nov. 1, when the walkout started.

The CIO United Auto Workers Union fight in Detroit to gain 30 per cent wage rate boosts from the country's main motor corporations was overshadowed by the termination of the 9-day strike of 10,000 CIO workers at the Windsor, Ont., plant of the Ford Motor Company.

In Detroit, Ford Company officials planned to resume meetings with UAW-CIO officials to discuss wage demands of more than 100,000 Ford workers in this country. The union on Tuesday rejected Ford's offer of a 15 cents an hour hike. The boost, amounting to 12.4 per cent, was in contrast to the union's demand for a 30 per cent pay hike.

Across the country workers idle because of labor disputes totalled about 400,000, including about 200,000 at the General Motors plants.

In Philadelphia, the 3,200 CIO United Steelworkers who have been idle at three plants of the SKF Industries Inc., for 12 weeks, were returning to their jobs.

Probe Brings Out a Sharp Disagreement

Washington, Dec. 20—( )—The senate agreed today to extend the joint congressional investigation of Pearl Harbor until February 15. Similar action now is up to the house. Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky), who also is the chairman of the investigating group, obtained senate agreement to the extension beyond the original date of January 3. Barkley said he believed that at least all of the evidence could be taken by Feb. 15.

A long explanatoin by Admiral Richmond Kelly Turner about the 1941 assignments, prompted the question from William D. Mitchell, counsel for the senate-house committee investigating the attack:

"Don't you think, admiral, that the division of authority between the office of naval intelligence and the war plans division in the navy was in a very fuzzy condition at that time?"

"No sir," replied Turner, who was war plans chief then.

Turner had contended that it was the intelligence division's duty to inform Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, then commander of the Pacific fleet at Pearl Harbor, about the 14-part Japanese diplomatic message that arrived here a few hours before the Japanese struck. This has been described previously as a tip off that war was imminent.

Mitchell immediately read into the record a statement by Vice Admiral T. S. Wilkinson, then naval intelligence chief, to the effect that Turner had insisted that the war plans division evaluate and interpret enemy intentions.

Wilkinson's brief contained a statement by Vice Admiral A. B. Kirk, who headed intelligence before Wilkinson, that Turner had argued and won this point in a

3,080 POW's To Be Shipped Within Week

Baltimore, Dec. 20—(AP)—The alerting of 3,080 prisoners of war to be ready by Christmas for shipment to their home countries was announced today by Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, commanding general, Third Service Command.

The army announcement said the prisoners would be drawn from nine camps in Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania and would reduce to 26,500 the POW population in the tri-state area.

The Service Command announcement added that there would be no change in the previously-announced cutback in POW labor available during January and February.

Jan. 3 was set as the closing date for five more prisoner camps in the command. To be closed that date are: Camp Reynolds, Pa.; Lynhurst (Va.) branch of the Alexshire Base camp at Front Royal,

Star of Bethlehem, Darkened Since Pearl Harbor, Shines

From high upon nearby South Mountain, the 90-foot man-made star will light this peaceful Pennsylvania community—named 204 years ago for the birthplace of the Christ Child.

Already this Christmas city is glistening with almost 10 miles of colored lights, dimmed since 1941.

The electric-lighted star, which casts its light beams 20 miles, and the kaleidoscope of strung lights made "too good an air raid target in the war days, said Bethlehem officials. They also explained that during the global strife, it didn't "seem right for the lights to be all lit up when our boys were out in the darkness fighting for us."

But the lights have gone on again.

Traditional candles, fragrant with beeswax from bees having access to white clover and formed in 200-year moulds, are flickering here again. They are also used in the candlelight service, the "Love Feast" in which the Moravian residents whose ancestors founded this city join their children.

And of course there will be Christmas cakes by firesides. The star-shaped "mandel spitzen" with finely cut almonds sprinkled on spicy icing and other Yuletide cookies.

It will be peaceful here next Monday night just as it was on a Christmas eve in 1741 when pioneers lit tapers in a log cabin and named their new home—Bethlehem.

"And on Earth Peace To Men of Good Will" will be sung.

Alias Santa's Helpers Find Living Costs Have Gone Up

Old Alias Santa this morning held forth on the high cost o' living and in no uncertain terms. "For anysakes, I thought that last year prices were skyhigh but by jingo this year they have gone out of sight. My helpers are having just a heck of a time trying to buy artincles for the folks that need 'em. Fifty dollars just melts away and really it doesn't seem to me that a fellow gets a lot for his money today. I just never saw anything like it the way things have risen in price. Thank goodness I don't have as big a family all year as I have at Christmas."

But Warren folks are helping the Old Boy in good shape and this morning he got a batch of cash and checks that sen a glow into the face of Alias and caused his eyes to twinkle. The Townsend Club No. 2 sent in $25; the New Process Company sent $25; The Freshman's Girls Club of the YWCA had $10; a gift of $20 cash was also received and seven dollars in cash was received from friends. This will all go to help in the good work.

However, Old Alias says "We gotta have more to do the job rightly and I'll just bet we get a lot more money tomorrow."

Traffic Is Heavy On Trains And Buses During This Week

Traffic this week due to the near approach of the holiday season has been record breaking. Every train and bus arriving in the city has been loaded almost to capacity and Warenites piled aboard in large numbers. The Greyhound buses are greatly missed as they have not been running for weeks due to the strike and the many that formerly used them are forced on-to trains. The storm has also deterred many from driving and tney have been forced onto the trains.

Both trains and buses have adhered to their schedules in fair shape through the storm period but have been belated due to heavy traffic and storm conditions but not too seriously.

The Northern Express was two hours late in arriving in Warren this morning and the eastbound train was half an hour late in getting into town from Erie. Last night the train from the east was two and one-half hours later.

Large numbers of service personnel are jamming every train as there is a great rush of soldiers, sailors and marines to get home for the holiday season and scores are returning having been discharged during the past few days.

Cold Weather Will Continue Over Tonight

One of the freaks of the weatherman was the unloosening of chills over this section today. At 7 o'clock this morning the temperature at the Pennsylvania Gas mixing station stood at 15 and by 9:30 it had slid down to 10 above zero. The weather report promises continued cold today and tonight and a little warmer Friday with some light snow.

The snowfall had about an inch added to it over last night but it was of the light variety and was not hard to handle. Absence of high winds has helped the situation as there have been no serious reports of drifting snow to date on the highways. The highway department has the storm situation well in hand.

Borough employes plowed the paved streets last night and today crews of men were engaged in opening the intersections where the plows piled the snow high.

Reports from Irvine this morning from the Page Construction Company were to the effect that at 6 o'clock the temperature was at zero and at 8:45 it had risen to two degrees above.

Girl Scouts To Carol In Local Store

Girl Scout carolers will sing in the Metzger-Wright store at two, three and four o'clock Friday afternoon. At two the girls will sing over the public address system so that they may be heard in every corner of the building. At three and four they will sing from the stairs on the main floor.

Mrs. Alfred Stevens is director of the group which made an appearance before the Catholic Daughters at their Christmas party last week. The sweetness of the girls' voices and their well trained performance pleased the audience.

The carolers will sing again at the Canned Food Show at Library Theatre on Saturday morning. The program committee of the Warren County Girl Scout Council is sponsoring the carol group.

On Friday the girls will meet in the basement at Metzger-Wright's at 1:30 p. m. to don their gay capes and to be ready to start singing promptly at two on Saturday, the girls will meet in the lobby of Library Theatre at 9:45 a. m.

School Head Has Review For Kiwanis

John G. Rossman, superintendent of Warren public schools, was the speaker at Wednesday's luncheon-meeting of Kiwanis Club, stating that his topic was a review in part of "General Education in a Free Society" or a report of the Harvard Committee.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Rossman pointed out the finding that our elementary school system is in pretty good shape, but it is the secondary system that needs attention such as this sort of committee can give. The report, he indicated, came about as the result of two years of study of the advice of educational experts from all parts of the country.

It was noted that from 1870 to 1940, population figures trebled, while high school enrollment increased 90 times and college registrations at least 30 times. In 1870, three of every four high school graduates went on to college and the college preparatory course was the regular high school course. Today, only one of four high school graduates goes on to college and two-thirds of the high school students fail to finish that course.

The court criticized the tendency of the present system wherein teaching is done by specialists to produce specialists. Another criticism was that leveled at vocational guidance as it is attempted today, singe the field itself is so varied and broad. Changes were pointed out that would make possible establishment of an educational system that would combine study of our heritage of the past with emphasis on changes we must face in the future.

Guests at this week's session at the Hotel Carver were two Kiwanians, Nelson Woodward, Jamestown, and Edward Proesseler, of Buffalo.

George Seavy, chairman of tonight's Christmas entertainment at Rouse Hospital, urged all to be in attendance and announced transportation would be provided for all wishing to make the trip.

More than 120,789,900 books were produced in the United States during 1933; this was almost one book per capita of population.

CHRISTMAS BUYING HITS PEAK

A public convinced that the best is none too good for the first peacetime Christmas in five years, is boosting gift buying to the highest levels in history, according to Dorothy Carew, special Associated Press correspondent, writing from New York.

The average Christmas shopper is spending with abandon, retailers say, and is making his purchases "at whatever price he has to pay."

The tendency toward more expensive gifts cannot be accounted for entirely by the lack of lower-priced items, retail store executives say.

A sharp increase in cash business in the higher-priced stores is attributed to an abundance of money in people's pockets and the fact that "they want the best and are buying it while they can."

New sales peaks are reported from all parts of the country, and two New York firms have set records for a single day's business during the past two weeks.

Macy's chalked up an all-time record of $1,121,621 in sales on Dec. 6, and last Monday reported its third million-dollar-day this Christmas season—the fourth in its history.

Gimble Bros., Inc., stores passed the $2 million mark for the first time last Monday when the corporation's sales totaled $2,035,000. Bernard F. Gimbel, president, said the total included the Gimbel stores in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Milwaukee, as well as Saks 34th Street, Saks Fifth Ave., and branches.

Shopping has presented a real problem with shortages cutting deeply into many traditional gift lines. But lists have been revised, budgets have been upped and the rush for goods continues unabated.

Women's handbags, better jewelry, men's lounge clothes, cosmetics, clothing of all kinds with emphasis on vacation apparel and evening wear, women's accessories and luxury furs all have had a big share in the Christmas business.

HIGHWAY FATALITIES

We have been quite impressed with a series of articles running in this paper under the heading of "State Police Say."

Attention was recently directed to the fact that highway deaths are increasing by leaps and bounds since gasoline rationing ended.

In words, what we don't lose by war, we kill with cars here at home.

One of the articles written by a state police officer, attached to the barracks at Erie, said:

"A motorist will slow down on a road when he sees cattle crossing, but will not slow down when he sees children playing on a highway."

There was more truth than poetry in that statement.

Many car drivers today with smooth tires on their cars and parts wearing out are less cautious than ever before and therefore more subject to find themselves involved in accidents.

We were horrified during the war in reading day by day casualty reports in theatres of action where men had no other objective than slaying the enemy.

We have no similar aghast feeling at the daily toll of automobile deaths. We have become immune to this fear until it strikes home.

If the average motorist would use as much care in the speed of his car as in picking out his Christmas gifts, we would be spared much of the heart ache and sorrow that come to homes where some member of the family is killed.

When a man or woman gets behind the wheel of an automobile, he or she assumes a serious responsibility.

This is an automotive world and in accepting that as true, we must learn that car driving carries with it the assumption that all would do everything possible to avoid fatalities.

We should regard all children playing on highways as if they were our own and act accordingly.

Commendatiion is due for the men of the highway department of the state and borough. They have done a tough job in a splendid manner during the past few days and are entitled to a ringing cheer.

With Christmas shopping on its last lap, the cash registers in the stores are jingling like mad. Undoubtedly sales have never been so high in Warren stores as they have been this year.

What It Means

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.

WASHINGTON — How many veterans are going to cash in on their free educational opportunities?

Estimates are varied, but the Veterans' Administration (VA) wouldn't be surprised if between three and four million vets go back to some kind of studying, apprentice training or vocational rehabilitation before the time limit runs out.

That time limit is now fixed at two years after discharge, or after the official end of the war, whichever is later, but in no case more than seven years after the end of the war.

House Bill 3749, presently being processed from bill to actual law, will extend this time limit.

Number Grows

To date 107,000 veterans have taken or are taking some form of education or training under the GI Bill of Rights or the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. The latter is a special law designed to take care of disabled vets.

The total number of veterans eligible for either of these two laws now runs somewhere over 6,000,000. The figure is growing so rapidly that it's impossible to pin it down any finer.

But, using 6,000,000 as an approximate base at the present time, the percentage of eligible vets who have taken advantage of the GI Bill or Public Law 16 (vocational rehabilitation) is slightly less than 2.

If three or four million veterans do get into education or training under either law, it will mean that 23% of the eligible ex-servicemen and women will eventually go back to school or college or some other form of subsidized training.

Some Take Jobs

Judging from the 2% now in training, 23% seems to be a highly improbable figure. But a number of factors must be considered, such as:

1. Many of the 6,000,000 present-day veterans are now being absorbed into good jobs. Jobs won't continue to be so plentiful, and many of the present jobs may fold up. The veterans involved will then be candidates for school.

2. The average age of men coming out of the service is decreasing. Servicemen released before V-J Day worked their discharge for one of several reasons: They were too old for further service, they received "dependency" discharges, or they were seriously wounded.

3. Another bloc of veterans eager to resume their schooling can't do so now but may be able to when the subsistence allowance paid by the government is raised.

4. I have talked to some vets who've taken temporary jobs with the idea of experiencing a taste of civilian life without the restrictions of a college campus. But they haven't discarded the idea of going back to school at some future time. And there are many veterans who don't know exactly what they want to do but who are potential takers of GI education once they make up their minds.

Learn to Dance

Education under the GI Bill and Public Law 16 can take practically any form the applicant wishes. More than 400 veterans are learning how to be cooks, barbers and bartenders; 25,000 are in schools and colleges; two ex-Janes have their hearts set on becoming chorus girls, and are learning the intricacies of their chosen profession.

Many veterans are taking training-on-the-job, sometimes called earn-as-you-learn. An ex-Joe starts in at the bottom learning a trade. Until he becomes a fully-trained worker, the Veterans Administration pays him an allowance which, added to his small pay, nets him about as much as the fully-trained worker receives.

Few veterans have gone into educational or training programs just for something to do. The subsistence allowance isn't high enough to warrant it.

A World War II veterans' organization recently made a survey of how veterans were doing in comparison with non-veteran students.

The veteran rated better than his fellow, non-veteran student in mental, academic and social traits.

Veterans rated as well as, and in some cases better than, male students of comparable age during pre-war years.

In 1925

The Wilson-Wetmore Company was host to some thirty-five contractors and business representatives at a dinner in the YMCA. E. C. Cook acted as toastmaster for the occasion.

Sneak thieves have been quite busy here recently. An alto saxophone was stolen from a car on Liberty street along with several blankets. Police are investigating the case.

A total of $883,998 was spent in the city during the past year on building construction. Sixty homes the First Methodist church, Times Publishing Company, and the YWCA addition were built.

Merle Graham boasts one of the largest supplies of Christmas candy to be found in Warren. Graham will begin selling today some 3,000 pounds of the luxury at his Second street shoe-shining parlor.

In 1935

Fifty-nine members out of a class of sixty-three in the Warren County chapter, American Institute of Banking, lecture course attended a session at the Warren High School.

$2,974 will be solicited from the National Youth Administration to aid students in the high schools in this area. The group seeking the funds is the Emergency Council for Adult Recreation, Educations, and Youth.

Four new projects, employing 250 men, will be started by the WPA here soon, it was announced by Franklin B. Brown, project engineers. Two Columbus projects, widening of Hemlock road, and a borough sewer project constitute the four.

A wonderful bird is the pelican

There is a well-known little verse about the pelican and his gift for gobbling up more than he can swallow.

A parallel is the UAW-CIO demand for higher wages from General Motors.

For General Motors' wages are already high.

In fact, in the last peacetime year, the income of the average GM worker fell in the top third of all incomes in the United States.

We believe in high wages! But we also believe that when wages are already high, the question arises whether further cost reductions that management can bring about may not well be used to lower prices or improve products.

Lowering prices or improving products benefits everybody. Customers get more for their money. The company's business grows. And the growing business is able to employ more and more people.

Wider employment serves the national welfare—and should be a primary objective of all of us.

Thousands of Parcels Being Moved By Mail and Express

Joe Warren and his family during the past few days have certainly been remembering their kinfolks and friends with a deluge of gifts. At the postoffice and express office there have been thousands of parcels and at the post office thousands of cards have been mailed.

Both at the post office and express offices many extra men have been added to the regular force to handle the avalanche of shipments. Extra trucks have also been pressed into service. The wheezy old vehicles of the parcel post department at the postoffice have done valiant service for veterans and the boys who man them are hoping for some of a more modern vintage.

The post office windows will be open this evening until 9 o'clock but will close at 6 on Friday and Saturday. The express offices are open until about 9:30. Both the postoffice and express employes deserve much commendation for the fine service they have given and for the promptness with which they have dispatched the parcels. It is an immense job but it is being carried out with dispatch.

Deliveries were somewhat handicapped by the heavy snowfall of this week and by the fact that mail and express trains were hours late in arriving in the city. In spite of all this the workers aim to have all deliveries of mail arriving delivered on the day of arrival.

Annual Party At YMCA To Be On Friday

The annual Christmas party of the YMCA will be held on Friday, at seven o'clock. All members of the boys department are invited to come and join in the fun.

There will be games in the gym, movies, instrumental music by the Salvation Army band, and refreshments will be enjoyed in the banquet hall on the second floor. Several new games will be introduced and a movie series including both cartoon and musicl numbers will be shown.

The price of admission to the party will be a present which the giver feels will give joy to the receiver. The presents will be given to the Salvation Army for distribution in their Christmas baskets throughout the city.

The committee in charge of the party requests that all the boys planning to attend the party register at the desk in the YMCA not later than Thursday so that the committee will know for how many to prepare.

IRVINE

The Ladies Union of the Irvine Presbyterian church, held their most successful annual Christmas party in the N. F. O. Club House on Thursday evening December 15th in the form of a 6:30 o'clock tureen and chicken dinner.

Eighteen ladies were seated at a dining table attractively centered with Christmas greens which encircled a pyramid of gaily colored tree ornaments, flanked by burning red tapers in crystal holders. "Santa Claus" favors also served as place cards and were the clever handiwork of Mrs. Vicander and Mrs. Nicklas. Room decorations included a prettily trimmed Christmas tree with two miniature lighted trees on mantel-piece. .

Following a bountiful dinner, a short business meeting was held during which the minutes of the last meeting was read by the secretary, followed by roll call.

For the devotional period Mrs. Crull read the Christmas story fro mthe Gospels and the subject for the program she presented was "If." Meditations were read by six members with five members taking part in a very impressive candle lighting service.

Preceding and following devotionals all joined in the singing of Christmas Carols, accompanied by Theresa Nelson, piano and Marjorie Hendrickson, violin.

The distribution of gifts was made by a "get and take" method anod caused much amusement.

Serving as a very able committee on arrangements for this most pleasant event were Mrs. Paul Nicklas, chairman with Mrs. Kermit Vicander. Mrs. Ernest Oviatt and Mrs. Charles Robbins acting as aides.

The freewill offering showed the Christmas spirit and added much to the treasury.

Out of town guests for the evening were Mrs. Victor Nelson and Mrs. Bessie Robbins, Torpedo and Mrs. Redmond of Youngsville.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Kermit Vicander on Thursday evening, Jan. 17th.

ERIE TEACHER DIES

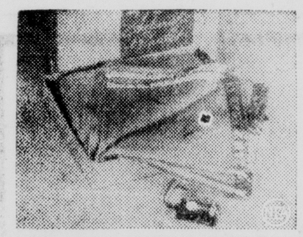

Erie, Dec. 19—(AP)—Miss Ramona V. Diamond, a teacher of Latin in Roosevelt Junior High school here for 23 years, died last night. She had received bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Pittsburgh.

SOMETHING ELECTRICAL

A gift of one of the long-missing electrical appliances will make any housewife as happy as the one here, who has just discovered the latest automatic home laundry under the Christmas tree. This model not only washes, rinses and dries clothes for the line, but fills, cleans and empties itself automatically.

Same principles used in electrically warmed aviators' suits have been applied to this G. E. electrical blanket, which automatically adjusts heat to weather changes while you sleep.

This four-pound electric iron has a dial which indicates proper heat for each type of fabric. Edge is beveled to get under buttons. Heat is concentrated in base to provide cool top and handle.

By KATHARINE SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York—Ordinarily, electrical appliances wouldn't be considered exciting Christmas material. But this year any woman who has been struggling along with temperamental toasters, washing machines and vacuum cleaners for more than three years will welcome with open arms one of the new models which will be off the assembly line just around the holidays.

Most of the electrical appliances are continuations of 1942 models, with some mechanical improvements. Not many new or radical designs are available just yet.

WASHING MACHINES: Standard models are expected to be on the market in limited quantities by the middle of December. Orders are being taken for them and will be filled as they are manufactured. The de luxe model with the flat top, designated for installation in kitchen units, will not be available until around the first of the year. Machines will sell at pre-war prices. There'll be no change in outward design, but there will be some mechanical changes.

AUTOMATIC IRONERS will come back about the first of the year. Orders are being taken for first deliveries. Some companies developed new and improved models during the war. Designed to iron men's shirts and dress suits, some fold up like a cabinet when not in use.

VACUUM CLEANERS: There should be some around Christmas. Large-scale use of plastics and aluminum in the body of the machine by all manufacturers makes new models lighter and easier to use. Wheel and mechanical assembly have been changed to permit the user to push them around with a finger. Getting away from black and dark grey, new vacuums are being shown in maroon with ivory trimmings, brown or a light grey. However, supplies will be limited until after the first of the year.

IRONS are for the most part the same as pre-war models. One company has developed a cordless iron which may be on the market before Christmas. The cord is attached to the iron's stand and the iron draws its heat from the upper part of the stand. This innovation not only saves cord from tangling, but permits ironed to move around freely.

ELECTRIC TOASTERS, both automatic and non-automatic, should be on the market in limited quantities by Christmas. Though there won't be any basic mechanical changes, many will have a more streamlined look. Electric clocks and roasters also will be available, say distributors, but it will be the early buyer who will be luckiest in getting just the appliance he wants.

Order Trees For Planting Next Spring

During the war, tree planting in the Cornplanter Forest District, which includes Warren County, was curtailed to some extent by the labor shortage. Next spring more men will, no doubt, be available, and there will be an increase in the number of trees planted.

District Forester John W. Wilson of the Pennsylvania Dept. of Forests and Waters in Warren, announces that tree planters who want seedlings or transplants for delivery in the spring of 1946 should apply for them now. Trees will be reserved in the order in which applications are received until the available supply of such species is exhausted. Some orders for 1946 are already on file, according to Forester Wilson. He states that those who order early will have a better opportunity to get the species they desire.

He recommends spring planting in preference to fall panting; because trees planted in the fall are liable to be heaved by the frost; the are more likely to be injured by the wind, thuus causing winter-killing and on wet or heavy soils, their roots are more subject to decay.

Forester Wilson says the trees will be sold for reforestation; but State trees will not be sold for ornamental or Christmas trees, because that would infringe upon the business of the commercial nurseries.

Only orders for the minimum of 1,000 trees, in lots of 500 of each kind, are acceptable. The price per thousand is $2.00 for seedlings and $5.00 for transplants. Shipments will be made in March or April by express, C.O.D. Money should not be sent with the order.

According to Forester Wilson the following seedlings, one to three years old, will be available next spring for shipment from the State's nurseries: red, white, pitch and Banks pine; Japanese larch; black locust; and black walnut. He also states that red and white pine, white spruce, and hemlock transplants will be shipped. The transplants are seedlings that grew two years in seed beds and were than transferred to transplant beds, where they have grown for two years. It takes more time to plant transplants than seedlings, because ther roots are larger.

The District Forester states that applications for trees can be obtained by writing to the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, Box 343, Warren, Warren County, Pennsylvania.

Ah, a New Candidate

CORYDON

Corydon, Dec. 17—The annual Christmas party and program sponsored by members of the local Nazarane church will be held Sunday evening December 23. On the committee for the popular Yuletide event are Mrs. J. F. Baltz, Mrs. B. M. Stoltz, Mrs. P. E. Tome, Miss Virginia Crooks.

A Home Economic meeting was held recently at the home of Mrs. P. R. Duntley. Several members were in attendance with supervisor Missc Margaret Reed, demonstrating the art of cake baking with Karo syrup. At a previous gathering time was occupied with novelties of decorative note appropriate to the Christmas season.

The Ladies' Aid Society sponsored another supper last Tuesday evening December 11, in I. O. O. F. hall, however few knew anything about the proposed event until it was over thus with stormy weather conditions also the attendance was extremely small. The previous supper was a fine success with twenty-five or thirty present.

Hostess for Friday club members was Mrs. L. J. Whyte. Cards furnished diversional enjoyments during the afternoon affair with high score token upon conclusion being awarded to Mrs. Mabel Russ, Mrs. Anne Van Sickle, presented slam prize, consolation, Miss Celeste Van Sickle. A New Years party to include all local card members and their husbands is an event planned with Mrs. Clyde LaDow, the assigned hostess. A turen dinner will be served.

Mrs. B. M. Stoltz, opened her home for members of the Foreign Missionary workers of the Nazarene edifice. There was a goodly number present, spending the time quilting. Upon conclusion the hostess served refreshments.

Robert Ammerman, honorably discharged from the United States service has arrived here from La Salle, Colorado, to spend time with his family residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kraft.

Something that looked like new equipment in highway machinery made its appearance locally for the first time on a recent Friday and tried out with what was termed good results. So far the roads have been kept open and travelers have experienced little difficulty.

Word comes that Jack Reid, of Oil City and Corydon, arrived home on December 6, and after a long absence is being welcomed with a round of parties tendered him by relatives and friends.

The deer season closed Saturday December 15, with a result many fine buck were killed in this section during the two weeks stand. A large buck and two doe recently on a Sunday morning scampered through the lawn at the George Prue home, made their way to river swimming across it to the Elk township side.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fair accompanied by Jacob Schuler, will spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hatch, in Warren.

Mrs. W. C. Crooks, Sr., have returned from a recent visit in Salamanca, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams have rented the Louis Learn home during the latters absence in Jamestown where they are at present residing.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald English and daughter, spending the first week of December with Corydon and Kinzua relatives has returned to Yorktown, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Williams plan a trip to Little Valley to spend the approaching holiday with the Glenn Williams family.

In the event of continued frigid weather experienced Saturday night and Sunday morning the Allegheny river and Mill stream carrying heavy slush ice at snails pace will like enough result in a stoppage.

Miss Leatrice Smith is arriving from Clarion Teachers college to spend thce holiday vacation with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith.

Miss Mary Lou Flatt is home from Missionary college in Berrien Springs, Mich., arriving earlier than expected owing to the flu epidemic prevalent in numerous schools. She is spending the school vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Flatt.

What All the Trouble's About in China

Propaganda smokescreens from both Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist government and the Communist regime in Yenan make a puzzle of the critical situation in Manchuria and North China. But to reliable observers it boils down to the simple situation mapped above. Briefly, it seems doubtful that the Nationalists alone could hold North China against the Communists, so they strongly oppose withdrawal of U. S. Marines and naval forces. The Chinese Reds thinks they can overcome the Nationalists, so bitterly resent the presence of American forces.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

There are a great many items in the Alexander Rashid Co. Store that are hard to describe—such as Art Pictures and 3-dimensional Pictures as well as Religious Pictures—world-famous Vases and figures, Tapestry Covers and Scarfs, Chinese Embroidery and a host of other things that really must be seen to be appreciated. You'll find it a pleasure to look at them and consider them for your home or the homes of those of your friends who appreciate the extraordinary and the different.

Civilian Planes Roll Off First Assembly Line

Personal planes for civilians, turned out by hand before the war, are now rolling off the first mechanized conveyer assembly system to be used in the light plane industry. The conveyer, pictured above, is at the Aeronca plant, Middle town, Ohio. It is 1275 feet long, can carry 45 fuselages in a continuous line and is timed to produce 20 airplanes a day.

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood—That cannonading heard out Culver City way is the Selznick publicity department going to work on "Duel in the Sun." David O. is reported to have finally completed the super-super production and the press campaign is on.

Selznick, who doesn't like to do things in a small way, is said to have thrown $5,000,000 into the picture. For all I know, the figure may be accurate, the movie has a cast of Jennifer Jones, Gregory Peck, Joseph Cotter, Lionel Barrymore, Herbert Marshall, Walter Huston, Dorothy Gish, etc.

It has consumed the efforts of five directors, not to mention David P., who does much of the megaphoning himself. It was nine months in production, more than than Selznick's "Gone With the Wind." The saga of the western frontier will run three hours on the screen, 45 minutes less than "Duel In the Sun" is expected ot greet movie customers next April. But hold the presses—David O. has just called the company back for retakes.

"Bustles are back," said Bernard Newman, the guy who designs dresses for Warner stars and should know." There seems to be a trend to "turn of the century" styles, which means bustles, soft necklines, full bosoms, slim waists and 'female' hips." That's what the man said.

For Those Who Serve

More than 50 members of the American Legion Auxiliary were in attendance at the meeting held Tuesday evening. A splendid report on the rehabilitation work for Christmas was given by Mrs. Claude Hover. Each man and woman in service, whose parents are members of either the Legion or Auxiliary, was remembered with a gift. All disabled and hospitalized veterans were sent gift boxes, and cash donations were made to Deshon and Aspinwall hospitals. A member at Mt. Alto Sanitarium was remembered with a gift, and a donation of cash and coupons was sent toward the erection of a greenhouse at Valley Forge Hospital.

After the business meeting, an evening of delightful entertainment was arranged by Mrs. Richard Hansen and her committee. The large living room was beautiful with Christmas decorations and a brilliantly lighted tree was the center from which gifts were distributed to all members. The following program was then presented, followed by group singing: Two piano numbers, Valcik by Mokrejs and March of the Dwarfs by Grieg, played by Joyce Smith; three solos, Christmas Bells Are Ringing by Hamblen, Jesu Bambino by Pietro Yon, and O, Holy Night, sung by Bonny Johnson, accompanied at the piano by Joyce Smith; two dance numbers, Spanish and Hawaiian, by Mona Jeanne Brooks, accompanied by Ethel Miller. Candles and Christmas greens decorated the table from which refreshments were served and at which Mrs. Ray Shepard and Mrs. J. H. Driscoll presided.

SOCIETY NEWS

Plans Completed By Social Clubs For Holiday Dance

Complete plans have been made for the Social Clubs' annual Christmas Dance, to be held Christmas night at the Woman's Club from 9:30 'til 1:30.

Al Cecchi and His Orchestra, from Olean, N. Y., will provide the music and will feature Lou Russo, a vocalist who has toured with the USO throughout the nation.

Bandleader Cecchi will have a ten-piece band—three saxes, three trumpets, one trombone, piano, drums, and vocalist. The orchestra is rated as one of the top organizations in the section.

Tickets for the dance are already on sale and may be obtained from members of the Social Clubs or at the door Tuesday night.

HOSPITAL ALUMNI HAS ANNUAL PARTY

About 40 persons were in attendance for the annual Christmas party of the Warren General Hospital Alumni Association, held Monday evening in the YWCA activities building. Music was provided by Eleanor Swanson, pianist, and her brother, Neil Swanson, cornetist, the two also playing an accompaniment for group singing. A gift exchange was another feature of the evening.

Serving as the entertainment committee for the evening were Sigrid Johnson and Alvida Lucia. Refreshments were in charge of Louise Spies, with Margaret Ostergard, Katherine Frantz, Margaret Horan, Nora Eaton and Velma Nason as assistants.

LUTHERAN GROUPS HAVING PARTY

The nursery and primary teachers of First Lutheran church will have a Christmas party in the Sunday school rooms on Saturday, from three until five, and extend a cordial invitation to all children of these groups to be in attendance.

WILL REHEARSE

Children of the primary department of the First Presbyterian Sunday school will practice in the department rooms at two o'clock Saturday afternoon. Sunday school will be at the usual hour on Sunday, they are reminded.

LACY SCHOOL UNIT

Patrons and friends of Lacy PTA were greeted for the December meeting by beautifully painted windows depicting the scene of the nativity. The windows, painted by art classes under the supervision of Miss VanLuvanee, were lighted for the occasion.

During the brief business session conducted by Mrs. Virgil Kittner, Mrs. Francis Kotmair, past president, was presented with a PTA pin. The room award went to Miss Paterson's group. Mrs. Ernest Huber then presented the following very enjoyable program:

Songs by seventh grade, accompanied by Miss Peterson: I Heard the Bells, and Silent Night; Bluebird of Happiness, a toe waltz done by Martha Ann Edwards, accompanied by Mrs. Edwards; carol singing led by Harry A. Summers; ladies' chorus of Salem Evangelical church: There's a Song in the Air, and Christmas Night, with Ruth Ackert as accompanist. To conclude, refreshments were served by third grade mothers.

Party Compliments Officers of Star

An atmosphere of true Christmas spirit prevailed within the private dining room of the YWCA activities building Wednesday evening at a dinner given by officers of the Order of Eastern Star in honor of Worthy Matron Grace Schuler and Worthy Patron Guy O. McKinley.

The theme for this annual occasion, known as "Winter Wonderland", no doubt was given cooperation by the weather man. The table appointments of blue and silver were carried throughout the dinner, with a silver Christmas tree in the center complemented with star-shaped forms filled with blue ornaments, these reflecting the lights from white tapers with accents of silver and surrounded by pine boughs. Miniature silver trees with favors marked the places of guests.

Margaret Gleese, chairman, was assisted by Mildred Ostergard, who proved a capable toast mistress for a program in keeping with the Christmas theme. Mable Smith was accompanist for the group singing.

Following dinner, the remainder of the evening was enjoyed in the social rooms.

Shirley Benson Is Bride of R. E. Lee

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benson, 26 South Carver street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Shirley, to Robert Edward Lee, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Lee, Main street, North Warren, on Wednesday, December 12, at six o'clock in Grace Methodist church, Rev. Harold Knappenberger performing the ceremony.

The attendants were Mrs. Donald Benson and Robert Smith, seaman first class.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, was lovely in a lavender suit with black accessories and corsage of yellow roses and baby's breath. Mrs. Benson wore red roses with a gray suit.

A reception followed at the Benson home, where the bride's table was decorated in white, arranged with white candles and a three-tiered wedding cake.

They will be at home to their friends at 26 South Carver street until December 25, when Mr. Lee will return to his ship in Boston for further duty.

Mrs. Lee was graduated from Warren High School in the Class of 1944.

Real Feature Booked For Outing Club

Frank Williams, who does the booking for the Marconi Outing Club has secured for this weekend one of the best attractions he has booked in a long time. It is the Ferrari Musical Review. They present the entire program and feature Hawiian guitars and other musical instruments as well as some good singing and clever dancing.

Mr. Williams also announced that workmen are engaged today in clearing the parking lot of snow and distributing cinders so that auto drivers may enter and leave the club with no difficulty.

Reservations are now being made for the New Year's party at the clubhouse on New Year's even It is planned to arrange the tables so that a large crowd can be handled and then to limit the reservations to the number that can be seated. It is expected that this arrangement will add much to the pleasure of the affair. Reservations are being taken at the club.

WHO WANTS PUPPY?

The Janes family at 1008 Fourth avenue would like to find a good home for a ten-weeks old female puppy, an ideal Christmas gift for any boy or girl.

NO SCOUT PROGRAM

Boy Scout headquarters, which had previously reminded all its Scouters of a round table to be held this evening, calls attention to the postponement of the event until some time in January.

BOARD SCHEDULE

The local office of the war price and rationing board announces it will observe the following schedule for the holiday period: Closed December 22, 24, 25, 31 and January 1. To compensate, the office will remain open on Saturdays, December 29 and January 5.

GETTING MANY FISH

Near Akeley men and boys have been engaged in fishing through the ice with pole and line and during the past few days some good catches have been made. One string of fish brought down contained some exceptionally big bullheads.

BARBER SHOP HOURS

Announcement has been made that barber shops of the borough will be open Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings until eight o'clock. Monday, Christmas eve, they will close at six o'clock. Wednesday, December 26th, the shops will be open all day.

ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Those who have had occasion to visit the west side of town, as well as residents of that section, are unanimous in praises of Christmas decorations at the home of Frank Tamburine, 1520 Allegheny avenue. Decorations in the windows, the Nativity Scene, and carols coming from the home are enhanced by a new thought for 1945, a uniformed soldier on the front porch with a caption "Welcome Home, Boys".

ERECTING DECORATIONS

Russell Anderson, chairman of the committee in charge of the Moose Christmas party for kiddies of members of the order is about the busiest man in Warren today. He is erecting the big Christmas tree today and getting decorations in place. The party will be held tomorrow evening and the event promises to be a happy one with a kiddies floor show, old Santa with gifts and treats for all who attend.

ELECTRIC TRAIN SHOWN

The only electric train to be displayed in Warren this Christmas time is in the window of the Darling Jewelry store and it is winning a great amount of attention from the kiddies. Electric trains are scarcer than hens teeth, according to the city newspapers, and to have one on display sure puts Eddie Sullivan in an upper bracket of something. He is also showing Baby Brownie cameras which are also few and far between.

4 cups cooked elbow macaroni
2 cups cheese sauce

Place sausage links in cold frying pan. Add water, cover and cook until water evaporates. Remove cover and brown. Line bottom of loaf pan with wax paper. Stand links around the sides of the pan. Combine macaroni and cheese sauce and pour into the pan. Bake at 350° 30 minutes.

Almond Wafers

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup powdered sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon milk
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
1¼ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ cup chopped almonds
½ teaspoon almond extract

Cream butter or margarine and powdered sugar. Drop in unbeaten egg and beat thoroughly with milk and flavorings. Add sifted flour and baking powder. Make into a soft dough. Shape into a roll and place in refrigerator for two hours. Cut into one-eighth inch slices. Sprinkle with granulated sugar and chopped almonds. Bake at 400° 15 minutes.

Chinese Nationalist Soldiers Are Obedient and Stoical

By HAL BOYLE

Chinhsien, Manchuria, Dec. 20—(AP)—Some notes on the Chinese Nationalist soldier:

Above all, he is obedient and stoical. These are both virtues and defects of his people but the qualities liked by all military leaders.

He will stand for hours on guard duty in thin canvas and rubber shoes, shouldering his rifle uncomplainingly in light cotton gloves. He will stand then until til he freezes if if he isn't relieved—and in Manchuria some are freezing to death.

He will fight well, particularly if he is in one of the American trained outfits, but he doesn't know too well what he is fighting for. He is probably a conscript because there are comparatively few volunteers in Chiang Kai Shek's armies. Troop levies are made in every area under national control and local village leaders are told they must produce a certain number of soldiers for the central government.

He is almost certainly from a poor family and usually off the farm. If he were a rich man's son or had money himself he could buy his way out by paying "squeeze" dough to the right man—just as wealthy men buying the American civil war hired substitutes to fight for them.

People who know both armies say the Chinese Communist ranks contain more volunteers and therefore more idealists.

He likes his American weapons especially if he has a tommy gun. He can use it well, too. He isn't as haphazard with guns as you might think. Those who get to drive jeeps—perhaps one in 10,000—are crazy about them. They drive like madmen and use the horn instead of brake and have a high casualty influence on animal and human pedestrians.

He has the same doglike loyalty to his own unit typical of all good fighting outfits everywhere. Unless he is actually dying he will rise from a sickbed and join his buddies sooner than be left behind. No army unable to instill this community spirit can succeed unless it is fighting paper windmills.

He has a tendency to believe women were created solely for his own pleasure and has the habit of entering homes of Japanese widows after dark without knocking. But Japanese troops working under them are treated tolerantly.

He subsists on food that would turn a hard-living American Marine's nose skyward in howling anger.

He likes Americans. If he is standing by when a Chinese merchant tries to charge an American soldier three bucks for a two-buck fur cap, he promptly interferes and tells the merchant to go to the Chinese hades.

He hardly knows what medicines are. He is sick most often from dysentery because he doesn't know what sanitation means any more than he can spell it. If he gets a really serious illness nature must pull him through. There are usually 25,000 men in a Chinese Nationalist army—although the paper strength is put at 30,000 so commanders can fudge on drawing supplies. Each army has only one well trained doctor. The rest of the medical corps are pill bearers and bandage men.

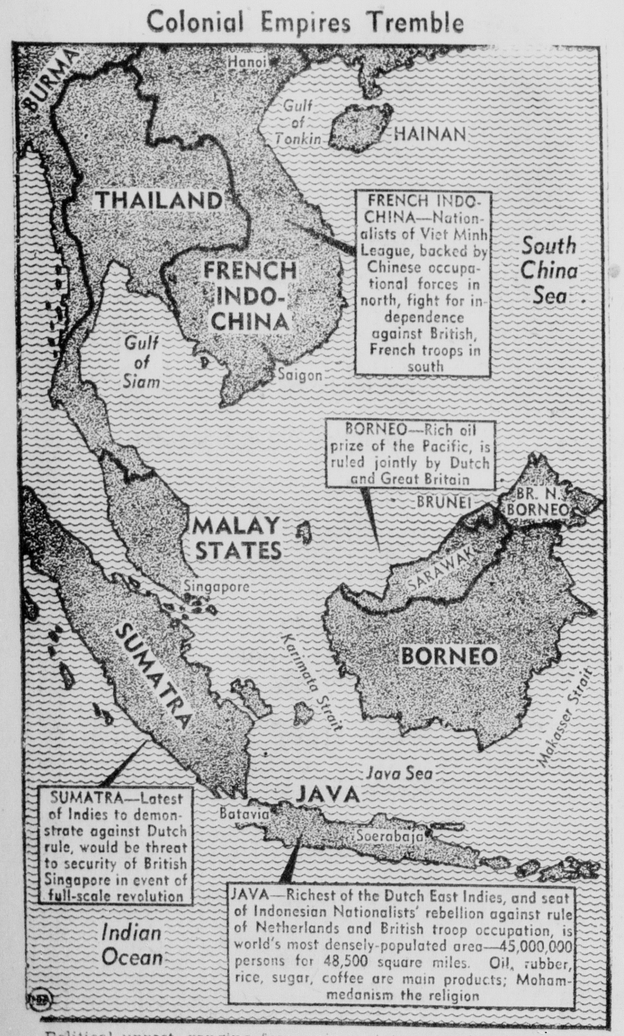

Like fighting men all over the world, he loves to drink and gamble. He is the biggenest soldier in existence and will gamble on anything from a horse race to the number of hairs on Chiang Kai-Shek's head.

They'll Live in Governor's Mansion

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. White of Kent, O., will occupy, rent free, a two-room apartment in the Ohio Executive Mansion at Columbus, O., at the invitation of Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Discharged from the Army in October with the rank of second lieutenant, White plans to attend Ohio State University under the GI Bill of Rights. The governor made the offer in the declared hope that others will follow the example of attempting to provide housing for veterans unable to find satisfactory places to live.

Colonial Empires Tremble

Political unrest, ranging from minor riots to pitched battles in Indo-China, Java and Sumatra, are shaking the foundations of British, French and Dutch colonial empires in the Far East. Indo-China wants freedom from French rule; Java and Sumatra Indonesians fight against Dutch domination and occupation by British troops. Borneo, rich oil center, may be next scene of demonstrations against British-Dutch overseers.

LUDLOW

Ludlow, Dec. 17—Regular services were held in Moriah Lutheran church on Sunday at nine-thirty o'clock with the sermon text being, "Message of Cheer" which was given by the Rev. Hans Pearson. Mrs. Emil Nelson sang "O For a Faith That Will Not Shrink." Sunday school followed with rehearsals held for the Christmas program which will be given at six o'clock on the night after Christmas, Wednesday, December 26. The Christmas morning service will begin at eight o'clock.

The Christmas Cantata, "Night of Holy Memories" by Wilson was given by the Moriah church choir with assistants to an audience which filled the church auditorium to capacity, many out-of-town, at four o'clock on Sunday afternoon. The cantata was directed by Mrs. Emil Nelson and accompanied by Mrs. Enoch Nelson. Soprano soloist was Mrs. Benjamin K. Connelly, soprano, Mrs. Walter Cox, Miss Macie Johnso , altos, Leland Engman, bass, Carl L. Swanson, tenor. The alto obligato was carried by Mrs. Walter Cox, Mrs. Wm. Hanson, Miss Macie Johnson and Mrs. Algot Swanson, and one alto part was taken by Miss Macie Johnson and Mrs. Wm. Hanson. This annual event helps the community to begin the Christmas celebration as it usually is given about two weeks before Christmas and is followed by the school activities to which everyone looks forward also. The offertory solo, "Cantique de Noel", was sung by Mr. Leland Engman, baritone, who has just recently returned from overseas service. The Christmas setting of a tree and candles helped to achieve a beautiful effect.

The Martha Society of Moriah Lutheran church was entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the Christmas meeting by Mrs. Jennie Moberg and Mrs. Amalia Mattison and was conducted in the church parlors with thirty-three members and guests present. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. C. J. Carlson, and Scripture reading and prayer was given by the Rev. Hans Pearson. During the business meeting announcement was made of two collections, Prayer Day $11.00, "Open House" in the Sheffield parsonage $18.50 which shall be used for the Post War Emergency Fund. It was agreed to give $7.50 to Lutheran World Relief and $7.50 to Dime Books. The nominating committee of Mrs. Ed. Wenstran, Mrs. Axel K. Anderson and Mrs. Albert Bramstang presented the following people for officers for 1946: president, Mrs. C. J. Carlson, vice president, Mrs. Silas Johnson; secretary, Mrs. Enoch Nelson; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Nelson; financial secretary, Mrs. Jelmar Mattison; organist, Mrs. Amalia Mattison; refreshments committee, Mrs. Albert Bramstang and Mrs. Benj. Peterson; Mission Tidings secretary, Mrs. C. E. Carlson, and Boxes of Blessing secretary, Mrs. Dan Swanson. The following program was given: Reading Mrs. C. E. Carlson, vocal duet, Mrs. B. K. Connelly and Mrs. Amalia Mattison, and reading, Mrs. Ed. Wenstran. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting after which Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Messers Axel and Adolph Nelson were hosts to the December meeting of the Lutheran Brotherhood on Thursday evening in the church parlors with a splendid attendance. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mr. E. W. Johnson, and regular business was attended. Scripture reading and prayer was given by the Rev. Hans Pearson. The following program was given: Harmonica solo, E. O. Nelson, talk concerning experiences in Europe by Lt. Karl E. Olson of the army, who has just recently returned from overseas service, Swedish vocal duet, Mrs. Wm. Hanson and Mr. Carl L. Swanson, and a Baritone solo, Mr. Leland Engman. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

The annual meeting of the Ludlow District Boy Scout Committee was held on Wednesday evening at Scout Headquarters with Mr.

SUBPOENA IN DIVORCE

In Warren County, Common Pleas, No. 42 Sept. Term, 1945.
Galon W. Faulkner, Libellant vs. Mabel M. Faulkner, Respondent.
To the above named Respondent:

Whereas, subpoena and alias subpoena have been returned "Non est inventus" in this case, you are therefore hereby notified to be and appear in your proper person before the Judges of said Court at the Court House in the Borough of Warren at a Court of Common Pleas, in and for said county, there to be held on the first Monday in January, being the seventh day, to answer the complaint of the Libellant and show cause, if any you have, why a divorce from the bonds of matrimony should not be granted to the Libellant agreeably to the prayer of the petition or libel exhibited against you before the said Court and the Acts of Assembly in such cases made and provided. And this you shall nowise omit at your peril.

New York Socialites Elope

Principals in a surprise airplane elopement from New York to Philadelphia were Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, 33, heir to the Vanderbilt fortune, and Jeanne Lourdes Murray, 22, cousin of Mrs. Henry Ford II. It was her first marriage, his second. They are shown, above, in a New York night club.

Needed Housing and Nutrition In Farm Reconversion Goals

The fourth annual Goals Conference was held at Altoona last week. Ane hundred seventy-five people attended a banquet in the evening of December 12 in the Penn Alto Hotel, but the general attendance was a little short of this figure. Senator Guffey and Waldo R. McNutt, president of the eastern division of the National Farmers Union, addressed the banquet guests. Both pleaded for a better understanding between farmers and the consumers of farm products. Better and more favorable relations between agriculture and labor are essential, they said, if we are to have a perfor all the people of the country. The opening session was addressed by Dr. Marion K. McKay, of the University of Pittsburgh.

The goals recommended for the several commodities considered by the goals committee were not released since they must be submitted to the secretary of agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson, first. When these goals are reviewed and adjusted at Washington they will be made available on a broad national scale, possibly in the latter part of January. The Committee on Agricultural Reconversion, however, made broad recommendations affecting our agricultural population during the peace-time reconversion period. We summarize some of the objejctives of this committee as approved by the general conference:

1. A land policy that will help the family type farm unit and benefit especially the subsistence farmer who represent 50 per cent of our agricultural population and produces a mere 15 per cent of our farm crops. Better housing must be provided for farmers through long term credit policies.

2. Continued price controls to prevent inflation and government subsidies during the time that of adequate returns from the sale of specific commodities. Production goals should be based upon adequate nutritional needs of our population plus export demands. They should not be determined by a policy of restricted production and high prices resulting from scarcity.

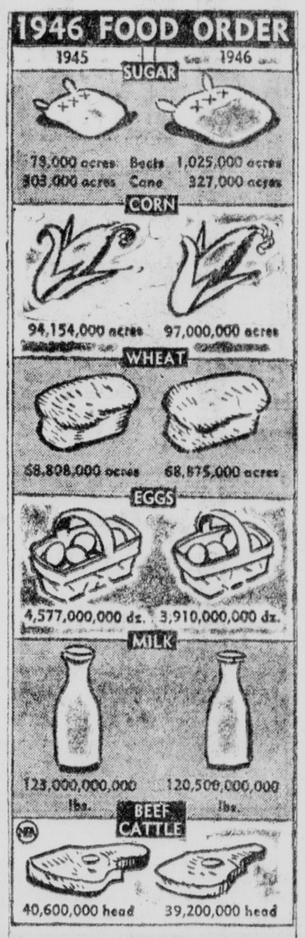

3. The committee favored the development of regional valley au authorities of the TVA plan, involve decentralized, self-liquidating administration units and the construction of multiple purpose dams for flood valley authorities should be established for the Susquehanna, Schuylkill, Delaware, Allegheny and Monongahela river volve the cities as well as the farms of Pennsylvania in the common problems of conservation and flood control.

4. Adequate nutrition for our population was recommended by public support of the school lunch program and the installation of nutritional courses in all our 14 teachers colleges as a means of properly using government funds in rural and centralized schools. The expanded use of school lunches provides for better nutrition for children of all groups and classes and stimulates the consumption of surplus food commodities.

5. The committee recommendfunds for conservation of soil through more conservation districts and for rural roads.

Reports of this Goals Conference will be summarized by the State AAA Committee for distribution by committeemen in 800 Pennsylvania communities when farmers are contracted for an enrollment in the 1946 Agricultural Conservation program. County AAA committees will call commodity groups into county meetings to discuss the county goals set up for Pennsylvania within the next 30 days.

Attending the conference from Warren county were A. H. Bradley, county committeeman of Akeley, R. D., and Carleton J. Curtis, of Columbus, R. D., representing county dairy farmers.

Pattern for 1946 food production, as set by Agriculture Secretary Anderson's announced goals for the year, are shown in chart above, which compares 1946 outlook with 1945 production. Goals generally call for reduction, with notable exceptions in sugar, wheat and corn. Total of 356,244,000 planted acres is proposed.

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Today's hand came from Cpl. Oscar Eichman, who recently returned to New York from China. While in China, he and his companions made some duplicate boards and kept up their interest in tournament play. When Eichman made a grand slam on this hand, he mailed it to his wife. The war was not yet over at the time he mailed it, and the army censor was evidently a bridge player. He did not delete anything, but he made a notation on the hand that, in his opinion, the last two bids of Eichman and his partner were overbids.

Eichman won the opening lead with the ace of spades and ruffed a spade in dummy. A trump return was won with the ace and Eichman discarded a low club. The king of hearts was cashed and a diamond led to the ace. The trumps broke and declarer was able to discard his two losing clubs on dummy's long diamonds.

BULLETINS

Winigan, Mo., Dec. 20—(AP)—Two bandit suspects surrendered and a third shot and killed himself when cornered in a farm house in a densely wooded area near here last night by a posse nine hours after the Citizens State Bank of Winigan had been held up and robbed of $5,000.

Rome, Dec. 20—(AP)—Preliminary reports indicate all but one or two of approximately 50 men aboard the Liberty ship Nathaniel Bacon, which struck two mines off Civitavecchia Tuesday night, have been saved, War Shipping Administration officials here said today.

GI's Prepare For Dragon Clash Wed.

Some 15 ex-servicemen and GI's are already cocking their sights for the annual wartime Servicemen's Game which will match the soldiers, sailors, marines, and fliers of the U. S. against Warren's undefeated Dragons next Wednesday night at the Beaty gymnasium.

"Elmo" Wolfe, a recent dischargee from the paratroops and one of Warren's top athletes, will head the combination of servicemen who will attempt to upset the "Big Five."

Already lined up for the encounter by Coach Wolfe are brother "Tink" Wolfe, who arrived home yesterday on furlough; "Warnie" Check, also on leave from the navy; Art McKeehan, a member of the championship quint from Warren High in 1938; Louis Check, also discharged; and Jim Eaton, 6 ft. 4 in. Dragon center of two years ago. "Warnie" Check "Tink" Wolfe, and Art McKeehan all helped put Warren on the basketball map with their crack outfit in '38.

Wolfe stated yesterday that he expected numerous other servicemen, who at one time played for W.H.S., to be on hand for the holiday classic. Any former Dragon cager who is at present in the service or who has been recently discharged may engage in the fracas. All players are asked to contact Wolfe.

This year's servicemen's tilt will undoubtedly be the last of its sort, for it is expected that a return will be made to the original collegian affair.

Next Wednesday's game will start at 8:30, preceded by a preliminary at 7:30 between two teams as yet unannounced. Willard Zerbe will officiate.

School Comes First For This Gridiron Hero

Lock Haven, Dec. 20—(AP)—Bab Eyer, 18-year-old farmboy, isn't going to let a thing like a little All-America ranking go to his head.

The modest freshman, star end for the Lock Haven Teachers College football team, says he received bids to play professional football with the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants but turned them both down.

He wants to finish his education first. Besides he expects to be called into military service soon—he was only 18 a month ago—and when he gets out of the army, he'll go back to college.

Max Bossert, Lock Haven coach, says Eyer is "showing mighty good judgment in wanting to continue his schooling," but admits proudly that his protege is "certainly a pro candidate."

"He's one of those rare players who can smell out a play," Bossert says. "He knows where the ball carrier's coming from before the play starts."

Eyer was named on the 1945 Associated Press Little All-America eleven shortly after he gained prominence by winning the first team end post on the All-Pennsylvania team.

Lock Haven, which staked claim to the unofficial State Teachers College title after defeating Bloomsburg Teachers 8-7, won four games and lost two this past season.

Stiff Action In City Loop At YM Tonight

City League court action returns to the YMCA hardwood tonight for the final appearance before the Christmas holidays. Tonight's preliminary pits first-place Struthers against last-place Blomquists, and the nightcap brings together the Baker's Cleaners and Youngsville in a battle that will break a two-day third-place tie.

One half of the 1945-6 independent cage league has been completed, and tonight's affairs open the mythical second division. The rapid-fire Struthers outfit is rated as the No. 1 contender for title honors, but Sheffield's O'Connors must not be under-rated.

At 7:30 tonight, the Wellsmen tackle winless Blomquists. Manager "Red" Swanson will probably send his usual starting lineup into action, including "Elmo" Wolfe and Bob Chase at forwards, Ray Ritchie at center, and Willard Zerbe and Bill Massa at the guard posts. Blomquists will send Bob Pascuzzi and Curt Valentine into action at forwards, Nick Wendelboe at center, and Bud Matthews and Al Buerkle at guards.

This evening's nightcap will send the winner into undisputed possession of third place. Bakers and Youngsville both have one win against two losses. McGarry and Tucker will hold forward posts for the Cleaners, Hammerbeck will be at the tip-off position, and Toyer and Frankowski will be in the guard slots. For Youngsville, forwards will be Abplanalp and Randinelli, the cetner will be Murphy, and guards will be Dunkle and Richards.

Gophers Flop Of the Year-Poll Reveals

By TED MEIER

New York, Dec. 20—(AP)—The University of Minnesota football team, which started off like a house on fire, then lost five in a row, today was named the "flop of the year" in the annual Associated Press yearend poll.

The collapse of the Golden Gophers was far and away the biggest disappointment singled out by the sports writers participating in the voting. It polled a total of 112 points compared to the St. Louis baseball Cardinals, whose failure to again win the National League pennant, put them in second place at 32 points.

With Bernie Bierman back on the coaching job, Minnesota started off like a pre-war powerhouse in brushing aside Missouri, 34-0, Nebraska, 61-7, Fort Warren, 14-0, and Northwestern, 30-7.

The tide turned on October 17 when Ohio State came up with a 20-7 victory. Michigan and Indiana followed with 26-0 and 49-0 triumphs and Iowa, the "weak sister" of the western conference, startled everyone by scoring a 20-19 victory. Wisconsin then plastered a 26-12 defeat on the Gophers in the last game of the season.

The failure of the Chicago Bears in the National Football League was ranked third with 30 points, only one point ahead of the St. Louis Browns who were expected to repeat their 1944 pennant winning of the American League.

Rounding out the remainder of the top ten disappointments were Bill Nicholson, Chicago Cubs outfielder; Gunder Haegg, track star; A. B. "Happy" Chandler, baseball's new commissioner; the New York baseball Yankees; Pitcher Mort Cooper, who was sold by the Cards to the Boston Braves; and the Navy football team.

SPORTS ACROSS PENNSYLVANIA

By Tom Shriver

SPOTS ACROSS PENNA . . . . .

Harrisburg, Dec. 20—(AP)—A recent reference to the quintet of six footers who are keeping Warren High in the ranks of the undefeated brought a flood of reports concerning other lanky schoolboy basketball players . . . . Jack Eaton, the Warren center is six foot, five inches . . . . But Corry claims a player who hits the 6 foot 7 mark . . . . From Erie comes word that Joe Zuravleff, who made the all-state football team, is now a basketball star . . . . He ranges up to six foot, four . . . . Jack Potter, at Smethport, is another 6 foot 4 youth, while his teammate, Jerry Canaan tops the six foot mark by one inch . . . . And we almost forgot Andy Butchko, at Sharon, who is 6-4 . . . . Over at Williamsport they have two six footers . . . . Alan Myers, who is only a junior towers two inches above the six foot mark . . . . John Perrotto, another junior, is just an inch shorter.

Basketball fans across the state will be sorry to learn that Harold Brace, Bradford coach, is among the many down with the grippe . . . . The germs hit the Bradford area pretty hard . . . . In fact the Bradford-Falconer game was called off when Don Wright was the only member of the Owls starting five to show up at school . . . . Coach Brace has a unique record . . . . In 17 years of coaching his teams have missed the PIAA playoffs only once . . . . Few coaches have been with a team over a longer span . . . . Hughie McGeehan at Hazleton is one of the exceptions . . . . He is starting his 21st year and heading for another title fight . . . . Birney Crum at Allentown rounded out 20 years of coaching with a state title . . . . Johnny Goepfort at Mahonoy City has been around a long time . . . . And always comes up with a winner . . . . His 1945-46 team is unbeaten in four starts.

Lou Pickelner writes that he is giving up his job as sports editor at the Williamsport Gazette-Bulletin . . . . He is getting into the lumber business . . . . And he will be missed a lot by the sports followers in central Pennsylvania . . . His job will be filled by Howard Dewald, an ex-serviceman, who is taking over just in time to see Williamsport high make a real try for the District Four title.

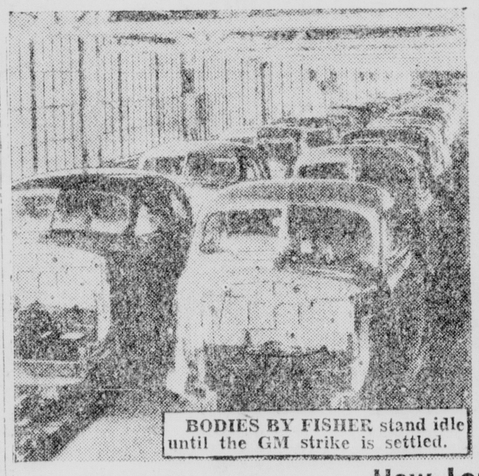

Plenty of Personals

Eddie Urban, who has just returned to the Lansford Record as sports editor sends in a note about a game in which the two teams were charged with 48 personal fouls . . . . The contestants were Coaldale and Mahanoy Township . . . . The Coaldale team, built around last season's football stars, was nicked for 30 personals . . . . And played the last two minutes with only two men on the court . . . . The only man left on the Coaldale bench was Coach Tom Raymer . . . . And he had his hand in a sling as the result of a recent automobile accident.

New Football Coach

Shamokin High has named new football coach to repl Walter Hall, who resigned in m season . . . . The new grid men is Michael "Gish" Klembara . . He was an assistant coach Bloomsburg State Teachers C lege under the late Austin T . . . . He graduated from Shamo in 1927 . . . . While in school was an outstanding center.

Here's Your New Car---Stalled by Strike

BODIES BY FISHER stand idle until the GM strike is settled.

RUGGED GM TRUCKS for commercial users must wait, too.

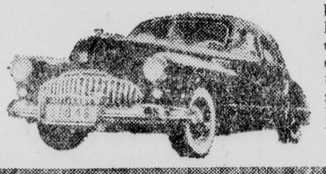

Your 1946 automobile may be stranded on the assembly lines.

A nationwide strike has paralyzed General Motors, the world's largest producer of passenger cars, trucks and buses, forcing consumers to wait indefinitely for essential transportation.

The strike was called by the United Automobile Workers (CIO) to enforce demands for a 30 per cent wage increase. The Union flatly rejected a 10 cent increase offered by Gene Motors as a living cost adjustme

The strike involves 175, hourly-rated employes. They losing nearly $2,000,000 in wa daily, and these losses affect directly every phase of the tion's economy. Coincidenta striking Union members ha barred 50,000 office workers fr their jobs in GM plants.

How Long Must You Wait?

Feller's Little Feller

Ace pitcher Bob Feller of Cleveland Indians throws out his chest and swells with pride, just as any father, as he admires his new son, Stephen Robert Feller, through nursery windows at Waukegan, Ill., hospital. Young Steve will be another fastballer, no doubt.

Tire Rationing May End By January 1st

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—The prospects for an end of tire rationing by Jan. 1 continue good, government officials said today.

These sources, who asked that their names not be used, said there had been no developents to cause a revision of previous productions that the rationing program would be scrapped soon.

John D. Small, head of the civilian production administration, said several weeks ago it was likely tire controls could be lifted around the first of the year.

Many Suggestions Made By President Truman Are Left Unsettled

Merger of the armed services—which Mr. Truman asked in his tenth message yesterday.

So-called "full employment" legislation.

Creation of fact-finding machinery to handle major labor disputes.

Liberalization of unemployment compensation rates.

Increases in current statutory minimum wages.

Disposal of war-created merchant shipping surpluses, and

Legislation setting up domestic control over atomic energy.

Many of those matters were the subjects of specific recommendations in one or more of Mr. Truman's ten messages.

The lawmakers flatly rejected the president's bid for new labor legislation by Christmas; months earlier they refused to enact a work-or-fight law despite White House insistence; and they didn't get out of committees a Truman request for repeal of the Johnson act restricting loans to foreign nations in default on their debts.

In the matter of investigations, the 79th congress was in a class by itself. Through committees it undertook more or less extensive inquiries into the Pearl Harbor attack, the state department program in China, food, the financial transactions of Elliott Roosevelt, and the operation of veterans' hospitals.

On the very first day of the session the house made permanent its committee on un-American activities.

The legislators weren't backwards in the matter of travel, either. The summer vacation cut short by Japan's surrender found scores of them visiting and investigating in scattered corners of the globe.

Winds and Frost Still Keep Icy Hand on Keystone State

last night were cancelled in Philadelphia and Easton.

The state hoighway department kept all of the main roads open during the night, battling drifts piled up by a 20-mile wind.

Today road crews manned equipment to clear secondary roads and snowbound farm communities.

Trains, running as late as two hours yesterday, were back on a fairly normal schedule today. Street cars and buses also returned to schedule after 24 hours of irregular operation in some communities.

The state hoghway department reported all state roads open in spite of new snow, ranging from one to six inches, which fell overnight in various sections of the state.

The department said snow plows and cindering crews are at work reducing generally slippery conditions and clearing away snow especially in southwestern Pennsylvania, where drifting was reported.

Will Discuss Reorganizing Penna. Guard

Indiantown Gap, Dec. 20—(AP)—(More than 400 high-ranking officers and state officials were invited to a conference late today) with the dual purpose of outlining plans for reorganizing the Pennsylvania National Guard and greeting its overseas commander, Major General Norman D. Cota.

A year ago, Pennsylvania's 28th Division after beating off an assault of nine German divisions that had caught the "Keystone Division" in a rest camp, helped return the "Battle of the Bulge."

The division, called into federal service with non-divisional Pennsylvania units before Pearl Harbor, was deactivated last week at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Invitations were extended to former Pennsylvania National Guard officers, reserve officers who served with the division during World War II, and officers of the wartime Pennsylvania Guard, ranking as major or higher, and to the governor's cabinet and ranking officers of Indiantown Gap military reservation, the Pennsylvania troops' "home" training base.

Apart from the 28th Division, Pennsylvania supplied numerous guard troops for World War II.

The governor and Cota will 9:30 p. m., with a re-broadcast broadcast state-wide from 9 to transcription at 9:30.

conference which division heads had held with Admiral Harold R. Stark, former chief of naval operations.

The committee, now in its sixth week of hearings, aims to wind up the inquiry Feb. 15 by working longer each day and cutting short its Christmas recess. Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) said some members were doubtful about reaching that goal, although all were "hopeful."

Barkley was ready to introduce in the senate an extension resolution agreed upon by the committee in a long private session late yesterday. The Kentuckian said he hoped for unanimous senate consent and then for quick action by the house.

Two Boys Dead In Clarion Co. Fire

Turkey City, Dec. 20—(AP)—Flames believed to have started from a coal stove in the kitchen snuffed out the lives of two little boys at their rural home near here yesterday.

Clarion County Coroner H. M. Wellman said the victims were Lawrence Albert Bunch, 3, and his brother, Johnny Allen Bunch, 2, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Bunch.

The father was at work at the Knox Bottle Glass Company at Knox; the mother was at a barn, not far from the house, when the fire was discovered. The flames had gained such headway that Mrs. Bunch was unable to re-enter the house.

Dr. Wellman pronounced the deaths accidental. He said the cause of the fire would likely never be definitely known.

Ridiculous . . . certainly not . . . many of the best manufacturers have already turned to washables (and turned them out, too). Why? Absence of good materials for winter wear. FAKED ATTACK IS SPARK THAT STARTED WAR

Evidence Shows Gestapo Agents Dressed in Polish Uniforms Raided Own Radio Station

UNFOLDS IN AFFIDAVIT

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Nuernberg, Dec. 20—(AP)—The first full story of the spark that set off World War II—a fake attack on a German radio station staged by gestapo agents dressed in Polish army uniforms—was unfolded today before the international military tribunal.

As the war crimes trial was recessed for the Christmas holidays, American prosecutors submitted a gestapo official's story of the raid, naming the assassinated "hangman," Reinhard Heydrich, as the man who engineered the coup which Hitler used as the excuse for the Polish invasion—crying to the world that Germany had been attacked first.

The story was told in the affidavit of Alfred Naujocks who said he led a company of gestapo agents dressed in Polish uniforms in a raid on the German radio station at Gleiwitz on Aug. 31, 1939, the day before the invasion. The raiders broadcast incendiary remarks in Polish and then left behind the bullet-ridded bodies of drugged German concentration camp prisoners, also dressed in Polish uniforms, as "evidence," Naujocks said.

The affidavit was presented near the end of the session, when the tribunal recessed the trial until Jan. 2 over the protest of Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor, who said another week will be needed after the holiday to complete the American case against the 22 Nazi leaders and six organizations on trial.

Naujocks, in his affidavit, said the fake attack with a company of disguised gestapo men "should make it appear that Polish soldiers were attacking German troops."

The evidence concerning the gestapo was presented after U. S. prosecutors completed their case against Hitler's elite guard (SS), presenting documents to show that SS surgeons fired poisoned bullets into concentratoin camp prisoners and carefully recorded the symptoms accompanying the slow death of their victims.

Details of the notorious activities of the black-shirted Elite Guard were unfolded before the international military tribunal by American prosecutors to support their charges that the SS and five other once-powerful Nazi organizations should be convicted as criminal groups.

The poisoned bullet experiments resulted in the deaths of three out of five prisoners selected, SS records disclosed.

The prosecution also recounted the experiments, previously reported at the Dachau war crimes trial, in which women prisoners were used to rewarm frozen men with the heat of their naked bodies.

Progress Now Being Made By Ministers

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Dec. 20—(AP)—The foreign ministers of Soviet Russia, Great Britain and the United States were reported making steady progress as they went into the fifth day of their conference today, but there were indications they did not expect to finish by Christmas.

The first intimation that the meeting might go over into next week and possibly continue after Christmas was disclosed by informed quarters that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes planned to attend the annual Christmas eve dinner of the American colony Monday.

So far there has been no official estimate as to how long the conference would last, but observers pointed out that the ministers had before them a multiplicity of problems, some of which were exxtremely complicated, and that disposition of these issues would naturally require time.

Byrnes and Bevin conferred with Soviet Commissar V. M. Molotov only an hour and 15 minutes yesterday and today's meeting, scheduled to start at 4 p. m., also was expected to be short because of a reception which Molotov planned for 6 p. m.

There was no definite information as to which of the numerous problems on the agenda had been under discussion or just how far the ministers had gone toward disposition of any of them. Strict secrecy continued to surround the discussions.

Observers said, however, that the talks were proceeding smoothly and in an atmosphere of cordiality and good humor. This spirit was reflected yesterday at a luncheon which Molotov gave for his two guests and their advisors.

Stalin, just returned to Moscow after a 68-day vacation, received both Byrnes and Bevin yesterday and the Russian leader was reported looking "well and rested."

New York Digging Out After Storm

New York, Dec. 20—(AP)—The city's heaviest snowstorm in two years was over today, the sun was out, and a reinforced sanitation department was at work clearing streets. The snowfall varied in depth from eight inches at Battery Park to drifts of two feet in the suburbs.

Christmas shoppers splashed through slush from store to store and except for some transportation facilities, the city's activities were normal.

Two deaths were attributed to the storm.

Port of embarkation officials said thousands of returning soldiers were delayed by the storm yesterday when only five out of 13 ships moved into New York Bay. Others lay at anchor off Ambrose Light, their skippers unwilling to proceed when the storm cut visibility to half a mile.

Operations at La Guardia Field were resumed at 2:20 a. m. today.

NOTE TO HUNTERS

Harrisburg, Dec. 20—(AP)—Deer hunters must file their reports today on the number of deer they killed during the season extending from Dec. 1 to Dec. 15.

Indiana Awaiting Jimmy's Arrival

Indiana, Pa., Dec. 20—(AP)—The swirling, drifting snow that has transformed this community into a Christmas car snow scene forced Actor Jimmy Stewart's family to give up plans to meet him in Pittsburgh today, but it failed to dampen their spirits.

"We're just crazy to see him," the ex-colonel's mother exclaimed.

Jimmy is en route here from the west for his first post-army Christmas at home.

"He said he'd be here the 20th, but he's coming by train and I'm afraid he's been delayed," Mrs. Stewart explained, adding:

"We're expecting a wire every minute, and we're all waiting with outstretched arms."

PATTON NOT SO GOOD

Heidelberg, Germany, Dec. 20—(AP)—Gen George S. Patton, Jr., took a slight turn for the worse today when he contacted a respiratory infection which was reported delaying his recovery from paralysis and a broken neck sustained in an automobile accident.

The midday medical bulletin had reported an uncomfortable night.

McVay Freed On One Count; Guilty Another

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—Acquitted on one charge, Navy Capt. Charles B. McVay 3d waited today for the unhurried routine of court martial procedure to run its course an a second count. Both grew out of the loss of his ship, the heavy cruised Indianapolis, last July.

After slightly more than two hours' deliberation yesterday, the military tribunal found "not proved" a charge of culpable inefficiency. But the court announced no report on the navy's contention that McVay was negligent.

Under the rules of court martial, any finding of guilt is withheld untilthe verdict can be reviewed by the judge advocate general, the bureau of personnel, the chief of naval operations and finally by the secretary of the navy. The latter may lessen or vacate any sentence but may not increase it.

The negligence charge against McVay was based on the accusation that he failed to cause a zigzag course to be steered through an area where enemy submarines might be encountered.

The inefficiency count, on which he was acquitted, alleged that he failed to issue and see carried out a "timely" order to abandon ship.

The heavy cruiser went down enroute from Guam to Leyte with the loss of 880 lives.

The military court began its hearing December 3. Navy legal authorities estimated the review process would require at least a month.

Chinese Reds Greet Marshall At Shanghai

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, Dec. 20—(AP)—General George C. Marshall arrived today on his mission to end internal strife in China—and as he stepped from his plane, Chinese Communists asked the government to agree to an immediate, unconditational cessation of hostilities, Lu Ting-Yi, Communist peaceparley delegate, told The Associated Press.

Marshall is expected to meet with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek at Nanking tomorrow to discuss the situation. The meeting will be their first since the Cairo conference.

Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Moosa, at Chungking, reported the Communist move toward a cease-fire agreement, and said Lu also informed him that Red Leader Chou En-Lai would seek an audience to present the Communist case to Marshall.

The American special envoy stepped briskly from a C-54 transport plane from Manilo at Shanghai's Kiangwan airfield this afternoon and proceeded to the Cathay hotel for conferences with Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. commander in China.

In Chungking yesterday, central government and Communist leaders alike were reported ready to "go the limit" in making peace concessions to impress General Marshall. The date of the forthcoming peace parley between the two parties has not been announced.

Winds and Frost Still Keep Icy Hand On Keystone State

By the Associated Press

Winter, which sneaked into the nation's autumnal weather scene a couple of weeks before its official entry date, appeared ready today to continue holding the climatic spotlight for the next few months.

The federal weather bureau reported a temporary break in the prolonged cold wave which has gripped a wide section of the country for the past several days. But forecasters said a new mass of cold air was moving in from central Canada and would hit the Dakotas and Minnesota tonight.

A blanket of snow extending from the Rockies eastward into New England and into the south, with the heaviest falls in the eastern section.

Winds and frost still kept an icy hand over the keystone state, hampered transportation to and from many communities.

An average of nine inches of snow covered most of the southeast part of the state in a white blanket and weathermen predicted the snow would remain until Christmas. Philadelphia has not had a "white yuletide since 1930."

The raging storm brought death to at least nine persons. Scores of others were injured. Many schools and colleges closed down when roads became impassable. Athletic contests scheduled

ALL FATHERS ARE OUT FROM UNDER DRAFT

Selective Service Quiets Speculation That May Lead to Induction of Only 18 Year Olds

A NEW CUT IN POINTS

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—All fathers are out from under the draft today but selective service quieted speculation that this might lead soon to inducting 18 year olds only.

The end to the drafting of fathers coincides with a new reduction in army and navy point scores. But a high official of selective service said veterans are not re-enlisting in sufficient numbers to narrow the draft any further.

This means, said this official who asked anonymity, that temporarily at least, single men 18 through 25 must fill replacement needs of the army and navy.

As has been the case since the end of the war, however, the great majority of those drafted will be youths becoming 18.

In halting the father draft yesterday, selective service also ruled that men with three or more children will not be permitted to enlist.

These fathers are "not acceptable to the armed forces", local draft boards were notified, but men with one or two children may volunteer.

Selective Service also disclosed that because of a halt on all inductions over the holidays, only about 30,000 men will be called up this month, as against a total request for 50,000 for the army and 10,000 for the navy.

The army and navy both reduced their discharge point scores yesterday, making another 837,000 men and women eligible for release.

Effective Dec. 31 the army cut the enlisted men's score from 55 to 50 and the officers' from 73 to 70. The announcement said this would qualify 600,000 to leave the service.

Effective Jan. 1 the navy reduced scores to 36 for enlisted men, 43 for officers, 23 for enlisted WAVES and 29 for WAVE officers, a one-point drop all around. The department said 237,000 would benefit.

MacArthur In Disagreement With Russians

San Francisco, Dec. 20—(AP)—American Broadcasting Company Correspondent Larry Tighe reported today from Tokyo that General MacArthur and the Russians had disagreed over which of the Japanese home islands Soviet forces w uld occupy, and that as a result Russians will not participate in the occupation at all.

Furthermore, Tighe said, MacArthur reportedly told the U. S. state department yesterday that if he were not let alone, and if Russia were allowed any further participation in occupation affairs, he would resign.

"First the Russians wanted to bring an army over here," the c rrespondent asserted. "MacArthur said no. He would permit them to bring one division. But they insisted that they be allowed to occupy Hokkaido, northernmost of the main islands. MacArthur again said no, with the implication that if the Russians ever got into Hokkaido they'd never be disl dged.

"MacArthur offered instead to let the Russians into southernmost Kyushu, which would put American troops between the (Russian) homeland and the occupying force. Then the Russians said no. MacArthur's answer to that amounted to 'all right, don't send an occupation force; we don't need it anyway.'"

Coast Socialite Is Guilty of Killing

San Francisco, Dec. 20—(AP)—Socialite Annie Irene Mansfeldt, charged with the slaying of Nurse Vada Martin, supposed love rival, was convicted of manslaughter last night by a superior court jury which deliberated 4 hours and 38 minutes.

Next Wednesday the same jury of six men and six women, who sat through the three and a half week court battle, will again convene to determine if the 45-year-old San Francisco matron was sane when she shot the pretty, 36-year-old Baltimore nurse last Oct. 4.

Mrs. Mansfeldt, widow of wealthy Dr. John H. Mansfeldt, who committed suicide a few hours after the tragedy, pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. Under California law she now must stand trial on the second half of the plea.

If found sane, she automatically will be sentenced to 10 years on the manslaughter conviction. If found insane she will be committed to an institution.

Chief Defense Counsel Vincent Hallinan said last night he will appeal.

Congress Ends Session Highlighted by Stubborn Attitude Toward Executive

Letter To Santa On Way To the North Pole

Barrow, Alaska, Dec. 20—(AP)—The letter Chas. Nelson of Chicago addressed to "Mr. Santa Claus, North Pole, Alaska," almost made it.

Principal George Wilson of the Point Barrow day school for Eskimo said the letter had been delivered to him and he would see that it was forwarded to its proper destination."

Barrow is Alaska's northernmost community.

Lines Holding In Battle Of "The Merger"

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—Opposing congressional lines in the battle of the merger, showed no signs of cracking today despite President Truman's request that army, navy and air forces be unified under a single civilian secretary.

First members of the house and senate military committees to comment were for the plan, as they have been all along. Members of the naval committees were still against it.

Only committee member deviating from this lineup was Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military group. He already had joined with Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga(of the house naval committee in proposing a separate air force with cabinet representation instead of a merger of the services.

Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate military committee told a reporter "we will have a good bill to carry out the president's ideas shortly after the holidays."

Senator Hill (D-Ala), a military committee member and author of one unification bill, declared "I favor closing hearings at once and starting to work on legislation. There are no material differences between the president's basic plan and the bills on which we have held hearings."

Vinson loosed a bitter blast against the White House proposal.

"It would concentrate the greatest military power in the world today in the hands of one man, a man not responsible to the electorate or congress, a military chief of staff of the combined forces that included the National Guard of the sovereign states," the naval committee chairman said in a statement.

New Chairman Of Dem Party Takes Over

Harrisburg, Dec. 20—(AP)—The 1946 political campaign got under way "immediately" with J. Warren Mickle's election as Democratic state chairman.

The "immediately" was Mickle's own brief comment as he stepped up yesterday to his new rank by acclamation at the state committee's meeting, called to accept David L. Lawrence's resignation, leaving the latter free to become mayor of Pittsburgh next montn.

Mickle hasn't yet settled on his own successor as committee secretary, he said. His first plans call for arrangement of a schedule of district meetings "in the very near future" to organize for next November's election of a governor, U. S. senator, and members of congress and the general assembly.

His election went through with but one hitch—an unsuccessful attempt by Committeeman Thomas Smith, of Washington county, to offer Harvey Stewart of his county in opposition. That failed because a seconding attempt by State Rep. W. J. Lane of Washington county was ruled out, since Lane is not a committeeman and had no proxy. Nominations were closed, and the committee had Mickle cast its ballot for himself.

The new chairman told the committee he regarded Democratic victory in the state next year as "inevitable, because we are in tune with the times," while "the policy of the Republican party in Pennsylvania—as in the nation—is a do-nothing policy."

Like retiring chairman Lawrence and U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, Mickle sized-up the big, immediate job as one of organization, and said he will "give special attention to the rural counties."

BILL FOR CONEMAUGH RESERVOIR APPROVED

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—The house approved a conference report on a deficiency appropriation bill including $125,175,000 for navigation and flood control.

The bill provides among Pennsylvania items, $3,000,000 for the Conemaugh river reservoir. It must be approved by the senate before going to President Truman for final signature.

Many Suggestions Made By President Truman In Special Messages Are Left Unsettled

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—The 79th congress, which spanned the transition from war to peace from President Roosevelt to President Truman, today ends the session it started last January 4.

Barring a last-minute upset in plans, it leaves the capital tonight to return for its second—and "election year"—session on January 14.

It leaves behind a record of stubbornness toward the man who last April moved from the vice president's rostrum in the senate to the White House office vacated by the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It hasn't taken kindly, and certainly not eagerly, to many of the suggestions Harry S. Truman has made in almost a dozen special messages.

Although its tally of "things undone" is a long one, the 79th congress, perhaps more than any of its recent predecessors, made its voice heard 'round the world by the things it did.

It ratified the United Nations charter; it overwhelmingly enacted a law to give living effect to this country's participation in UNO; it appropriated new money to the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration; it extended the lend-lease program and the reciprocal trade agreements act, and it wrote into law the Bretton Woods international monetary agreements.

In doing those things it followed the recommendations of both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman.

On the domestic front it:

Appropriated approximately $62,000,000,000 while a two-front war was in progress and then, after the last shots had been fired, took back some $52,000,000,000 of current and past year allotments that hadn't been used.

Extended the draft law until next May 15.

Raised the national debt limit to $300,000,000,000.

Extended price controls until the middle of 1946.

Rewrote the servicemen's G. I. bill of rights.

Cut income taxes and ordered repeal of the excess profits tax Jan. 1, 1946.

Simplified administration of surplus property disposal in accord with another presidential entreaty.

Compromised with the president on return of employment service offices to the states by ordering their return around next April 1 instead of retaining them under federal control until mid-1947 as Mr. Truman wanted.

Voted its 435 house members annual expense allowances of $2,500 each, which the senate declined to approve for itself.

But congress put off until next year action on:

The multi-billion British loan proposal.

Pensions and pay raises for congressmen.

(Turn to Page Seventeen)

President's War Powers Extended

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—President Truman is assured of another six months of war powers which, among other things, include rationing.

The administration failed to obtain a hoped-for one year extension when the senate concurred yesterday, 31 to 30, with a house approved bill setting up the lesser period.

The bill goes back to the house because of a senate amendment setting Dec. 31 as the deadline for members of the armed forces to apply for naturalization, and providing that only persons in the service when the measure becomes law may apply.

The extended war powers authorize treasury sale of up to $5,000,000,000 of securities to the federal reserve system without going into the open market; disposal of property seized for war purposes; waiver of navigation and inspection laws to speed movement of troops; and exemption of valunteer employes such as ration board members from the Hatch act banning political activity by federal workers.

Private Has Single Point For Discharge

Honolulu, Dec. 20—(AP)—Pvt. William G. Pickett, stationed at Bellows Field, whs accumulated exactly one point toward discharge yet his record includes:

Four years in battle areas, service on more than 35 ships, including one torpedoed, shelled and sunk; service on most of the seven seas.

Answer — He spent five years in the merchant marine, was drafted for army service just before V-J Day.

FACT-FINDING BOARDS FACE STIFF TESTS

Panel In General Motors Case Planning First Public Hearings After Preliminary Meeting

ANOTHER IS IN RECESS

By the Associated Press

President Truman's first fact-finding boards, studying wage disputes in the oil and automobile industries, faced crucial tests today as they prepared decisions on the question involving consideration of profits and prices in recommending a possible pay increase.

The panel in the General Motors case planned its first public hearings today, but Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison said after yesterday's preliminary meeting with the company and the CIO-United Auto Workers Union that it would recess until Saturday to rule on whether to accept testimony on profits and possible price boosts.

He said General Motors had refused to show its books to answer the Union's claim that it could absorb a 30 per cent wage hike. Garrison also said that GM said prices are a matter to be discussed with the Office of Price Administration and are of no concern to the union or the fact-finding board.

Meanwhile, the panel studying the oil wage dispute was in recess until tomorrow when it will make its ruling on the question, after which it will hear arguments from both sides.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach moved to end the 50-day old strike of some 4,000 AFL employes of Greyhound Bus lines in 18 eastern states. He offered to appoint a third fact-finding board, provided the strikers, members of the AFL Amalgamated Street Railway and Motor Coach Employes, return to their jobs.

His offer was not accepted immediately by either the union or the strikebound Pennsylvania and Central Greyhound Companies, pending further study of the labor secretary's proposal. The companies were asked to reinstate the strikers without penalties and to make any wage increases finally granted retroactive to Nov. 1, when the walkout started.

The CIO United Auto Workers Union fight in Detroit to gain 30 per cent wage rate boosts from the country's main motor corporations was overshadowed by the termination of the 9-day strike of 10,000 CIO workers at the Windsor, Ont., plant of the Ford Motor Company.

In Detroit, Ford Company officials planned to resume meetings with UAW-CIO officials to discuss wage demands of more than 100,000 Ford workers in this country. The union on Tuesday rejected Ford's offer of a 15 cents an hour hike. The boost, amounting to 12.4 per cent, was in contrast to the union's demand for a 30 per cent pay hike.

Across the country workers idle because of labor disputes totalled about 400,000, including about 200,000 at the General Motors plants.

In Philadelphia, the 3,200 CIO United Steelworkers who have been idle at three plants of the SKF Industries Inc., for 12 weeks, were returning to their jobs.

Probe Brings Out a Sharp Disagreement

Washington, Dec. 20—( )—The senate agreed today to extend the joint congressional investigation of Pearl Harbor until February 15. Similar action now is up to the house. Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky), who also is the chairman of the investigating group, obtained senate agreement to the extension beyond the original date of January 3. Barkley said he believed that at least all of the evidence could be taken by Feb. 15.

A long explanatoin by Admiral Richmond Kelly Turner about the 1941 assignments, prompted the question from William D. Mitchell, counsel for the senate-house committee investigating the attack:

"Don't you think, admiral, that the division of authority between the office of naval intelligence and the war plans division in the navy was in a very fuzzy condition at that time?"

"No sir," replied Turner, who was war plans chief then.

Turner had contended that it was the intelligence division's duty to inform Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, then commander of the Pacific fleet at Pearl Harbor, about the 14-part Japanese diplomatic message that arrived here a few hours before the Japanese struck. This has been described previously as a tip off that war was imminent.

Mitchell immediately read into the record a statement by Vice Admiral T. S. Wilkinson, then naval intelligence chief, to the effect that Turner had insisted that the war plans division evaluate and interpret enemy intentions.

Wilkinson's brief contained a statement by Vice Admiral A. B. Kirk, who headed intelligence before Wilkinson, that Turner had argued and won this point in a

3,080 POW's To Be Shipped Within Week

Baltimore, Dec. 20—(AP)—The alerting of 3,080 prisoners of war to be ready by Christmas for shipment to their home countries was announced today by Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, commanding general, Third Service Command.

The army announcement said the prisoners would be drawn from nine camps in Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania and would reduce to 26,500 the POW population in the tri-state area.

The Service Command announcement added that there would be no change in the previously-announced cutback in POW labor available during January and February.

Jan. 3 was set as the closing date for five more prisoner camps in the command. To be closed that date are: Camp Reynolds, Pa.; Lynhurst (Va.) branch of the Aleshire Base camp at Front Royal,

INSTITUTE FOR VETS

Harrisburg, Dec. 20—(AP)—Designed to train returned veterans, the Harrisburg Technical Institute will open here Fem. 4 as part of the Pennsylvania State College Extension courses. D. A. Elias, chairman of the Technical Institute advisory committee here, said plans were completed yesterday to offer all types of technical and business courses provisions of the GI bill of rights.

Star of Bethlehem, Darkened Since Pearl Harbor, Shines

From high upon nearby South Mountain, the 90-foot man-made star will light this peaceful Pennsylvania community—named 204 years ago for the birthplace of the Christ Child.

Already this Christmas city is glistening with almost 10 miles of colored lights, dimmed since 1941.

The electric-lighted star, which casts its light beams 20 miles, and the kaleidoscope of strung lights made "too good an air raid target in the war days, said Bethlehem officials. They also explained that during the global strife, it didn't "seem right for the lights to be all lit up when our boys were out in the darkness fighting for us."

But the lights have gone on again.

Traditional candles, fragrant with beeswax from bees having access to white clover and formed in 200-year moulds, are flickering here again. They are also used in the candlelight service, the "Love Feast" in which the Moravian residents whose ancestors founded this city join their children.

And of course there will be Christmas cakes by firesides. The star-shaped "mandel spitzen" with finely cut almonds sprinkled on spicy icing and other Yuletide cookies.

It will be peaceful here next Monday night just as it was on a Christmas eve in 1741 when pioneers lit tapers in a log cabin and named their new home—Bethlehem.

"And on Earth Peace To Men of Good Will" will be sung.

Alias Santa's Helpers Find Living Costs Have Gone Up

Old Alias Santa this morning held forth on the high cost o' living and in no uncertain terms. "For anysakes, I thought that last year prices were skyhigh but by jingo this year they have gone out of sight. My helpers are having just a heck of a time trying to buy artincles for the folks that need 'em. Fifty dollars just melts away and really it doesn't seem to me that a fellow gets a lot for his money today. I just never saw anything like it the way things have risen in price. Thank goodness I don't have as big a family all year as I have at Christmas."

But Warren folks are helping the Old Boy in good shape and this morning he got a batch of cash and checks that sen a glow into the face of Alias and caused his eyes to twinkle. The Townsend Club No. 2 sent in $25; the New Process Company sent $25; The Freshman's Girls Club of the YWCA had $10; a gift of $20 cash was also received and seven dollars in cash was received from friends. This will all go to help in the good work.

However, Old Alias says "We gotta have more to do the job rightly and I'll just bet we get a lot more money tomorrow."

Traffic Is Heavy On Trains And Buses During This Week

Traffic this week due to the near approach of the holiday season has been record breaking. Every train and bus arriving in the city has been loaded almost to capacity and Warenites piled aboard in large numbers. The Greyhound buses are greatly missed as they have not been running for weeks due to the strike and the many that formerly used them are forced on- to trains. The storm has also deterred many from driving and tney have been forced onto the trains.

Both trains and buses have adhered to their schedules in fair shape through the storm period but have been belated due to heavy traffic and storm conditions but not too seriously.

The Northern Express was two hours late in arriving in Warren this morning and the eastbound train was half an hour late in getting into town from Erie. Last night the train from the east was two and one-half hours later.

Large numbers of service personnel are jamming every train as there is a great rush of soldiers, sailors and marines to get home for the holiday season and scores are returning having been discharged during the past few days.

Cold Weather Will Continue Over Tonight

One of the freaks of the weatherman was the unloosening of chills over this section today. At 7 o'clock this morning the temperature at the Pennsylvania Gas mixing station stood at 15 and by 9:30 it had slid down to 10 above zero. The weather report promises continued cold today and tonight and a little warmer Friday with some light snow.

The snowfall had about an inch added to it over last night but it was of the light variety and was not hard to handle. Absence of high winds has helped the situation as there have been no serious reports of drifting snow to date on the highways. The highway department has the storm situation well in hand.

Borough employes plowed the paved streets last night and today crews of men were engaged in opening the intersections where the plows piled the snow high.

Reports from Irvine this morning from the Page Construction Company were to the effect that at 6 o'clock the temperature was at zero and at 8:45 it had risen to two degrees above.

Girl Scouts To Carol In Local Store

Girl Scout carolers will sing in the Metzger-Wright store at two, three and four o'clock Friday afternoon. At two the girls will sing over the public address system so that they may be heard in every corner of the building. At three and four they will sing from the stairs on the main floor.

Mrs. Alfred Stevens is director of the group which made an appearance before the Catholic Daughters at their Christmas party last week. The sweetness of the girls' voices and their well trained performance pleased the audience.

The carolers will sing again at the Canned Food Show at Library Theatre on Saturday morning. The program committee of the Warren County Girl Scout Council is sponsoring the carol group.

On Friday the girls will meet in the basement at Metzger-Wright's at 1:30 p. m. to don their gay capes and to be ready to start singing promptly at two on Saturday, the girls will meet in the lobby of Library Theatre at 9:45 a. m.

School Head Has Review For Kiwanis

John G. Rossman, superintendent of Warren public schools, was the speaker at Wednesday's luncheon-meeting of Kiwanis Club, stating that his topic was a review in part of "General Education in a Free Society" or a report of the Harvard Committee.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Rossman pointed out the finding that our elementary school system is in pretty good shape, but it is the secondary system that needs attention such as this sort of committee can give. The report, he indicated, came about as the result of two years of study of the advice of educational experts from all parts of the country.

It was noted that from 1870 to 1940, population figures trebled, while high school enrollment increased 90 times and college registrations at least 30 times. In 1870, three of every four high school graduates went on to college and the college preparatory course was the regular high school course. Today, only one of four high school graduates goes on to college and two-thirds of the high school students fail to finish that course.

The court criticized the tendency of the present system wherein teaching is done by specialists to produce specialists. Another criticism was that leveled at vocational guidance as it is attempted today, singe the field itself is so varied and broad. Changes were pointed out that would make possible establishment of an educational system that would combine study of our heritage of the past with emphasis on changes we must face in the future.

Guests at this week's session at the Hotel Carver were two Kiwanians, Nelson Woodward, Jamestown, and Edward Proesseler, of Buffalo.

George Seavy, chairman of tonight's Christmas entertainment at Rouse Hospital, urged all to be in attendance and announced transportation would be provided for all wishing to make the trip.

More than 120,789,900 books were produced in the United States during 1933; this was almost one book per capita of population.

CHRISTMAS BUYING HITS PEAK

A public convinced that the best is none too good for the first peacetime Christmas in five years, is boosting gift buying to the highest levels in history, according to Dorothy Carew, special Associated Press correspondent, writing from New York.

The tendency toward more expensive gifts cannot be accounted for entirely by the lack of lower-priced items, retail store executives say.

A sharp increase in cash business in the higher-priced stores is attributed to an abundance of money in people's pockets and the fact that "they want the best and are buying it while they can."

New sales peaks are reported from all parts of the country, and two New York firms have set records for a single day's business during the past two weeks.

Macy's chalked up an all-time record of $1,121,621 in sales on Dec. 6, and last Monday reported its third million-dollar-day this Christmas season—the fourth in its history.

Gimble Bros., Inc., stores passed the $2 million mark for the first time last Monday when the corporation's sales totaled $2,035,000. Bernard F. Gimbel, president, said the total included the Gimbel stores in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Milwaukee, as well as Saks 34th Street, Saks Fifth Ave., and branches.

Shopping has presented a real problem with shortages cutting deeply into many traditional gift lines. But lists have been revised, budgets have been upped and the rush for goods continues unabated.

Women's handbags, better jewelry, men's lounge clothes, cosmetics, clothing of all kinds with emphasis on vacation apparel and evening wear, women's accessories and luxury furs all have had a big share in the Christmas business.

HIGHWAY FATALITIES

Attention was recently directed to the fact that highway deaths are increasing by leaps and bounds since gasoline rationing ended.

In words, what we don't lose by war, we kill with cars here at home.

One of the articles written by a state police officer, attached to the barracks at Erie, said:

"A motorist will slow down on a road when he sees cattle crossing, but will not slow down when he sees children playing on a highway."

There was more truth than poetry in that statement.

Many car drivers today with smooth tires on their cars and parts wearing out are less cautious than ever before and therefore more subject to find themselves involved in accidents.

We were horrified during the war in reading day by day casualty reports in theatres of action where men had no other objective than slaying the enemy.

We have no similar aghast feeling at the daily toll of automobile deaths. We have become immune to this fear until it strikes home.

If the average motorist would use as much care in the speed of his car as in picking out his Christmas gifts, we would be spared much of the heart ache and sorrow that come to homes where some member of the family is killed.

When a man or woman gets behind the wheel of an automobile, he or she assumes a serious responsibility.

This is an automotive world and in accepting that as true, we must learn that car driving carries with it the assumption that all would do everything possible to avoid fatalities.

We should regard all children playing on highways as if they were our own and act accordingly.

Commendatiion is due for the men of the highway department of the state and borough. They have done a tough job in a splendid manner during the past few days and are entitled to a ringing cheer.

With Christmas shopping on its last lap, the cash registers in the stores are jingling like mad. Undoubtedly sales have never been so high in Warren stores as they have been this year.

What It Means

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.

WASHINGTON — How many veterans are going to cash in on their free educational opportunities?

Estimates are varied, but the Veterans' Administration (VA) wouldn't be surprised if between three and four million vets go back to some kind of studying, apprentice training or vocational rehabilitation before the time limit runs out.

That time limit is now fixed at two years after discharge, or after the official end of the war, whichever is later, but in no case more than seven years after the end of the war.

House Bill 3749, presently being processed from bill to actual law, will extend this time limit.

Number Grows

To date 107,000 veterans have taken or are taking some form of education or training under the GI Bill of Rights or the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. The latter is a special law designed to take care of disabled vets.

The total number of veterans eligible for either of these two laws now runs somewhere over 6,000,000. The figure is growing so rapidly that it's impossible to pin it down any finer.

But, using 6,000,000 as an approximate base at the present time, the percentage of eligible vets who have taken advantage of the GI Bill or Public Law 16 (vocational rehabilitation) is slightly less than 2.

If three or four million veterans do get into education or training under either law, it will mean that 23% of the eligible ex-servicemen and women will eventually go back to school or college or some other form of subsidized training.

Some Take Jobs

Judging from the 2% now in training, 23% seems to be a highly improbable figure. But a number of factors must be considered, such as:

1. Many of the 6,000,000 present-day veterans are now being absorbed into good jobs. Jobs won't continue to be so plentiful, and many of the present jobs may fold up. The veterans involved will then be candidates for school.

2. The average age of men coming out of the service is decreasing. Servicemen released before V-J Day worked their discharge for one of several reasons: They were too old for further service, they received "dependency" discharges, or they were seriously wounded.

3. Another bloc of veterans eager to resume their schooling can't do so now but may be able to when the subsistence allowance paid by the government is raised.

4. I have talked to some vets who've taken temporary jobs with the idea of experiencing a taste of civilian life without the restrictions of a college campus. But they haven't discarded the idea of going back to school at some future time. And there are many veterans who don't know exactly what they want to do but who are potential takers of GI education once they make up their minds.

Learn to Dance

Education under the GI Bill and Public Law 16 can take practically any form the applicant wishes. More than 400 veterans are learning how to be cooks, barbers and bartenders; 25,000 are in schools and colleges; two ex-Janes have their hearts set on becoming chorus girls, and are learning the intricacies of their chosen profession.

Many veterans are taking training-on-the-job, sometimes called earn-as-you-learn. An ex-Joe starts in at the bottom learning a trade. Until he becomes a fully-trained worker, the Veterans Administration pays him an allowance which, added to his small pay, nets him about as much as the fully-trained worker receives.

Few veterans have gone into educational or training programs just for something to do. The subsistence allowance isn't high enough to warrant it.

A World War II veterans' organization recently made a survey of how veterans were doing in comparison with non-veteran students.

The veteran rated better than his fellow, non-veteran student in mental, academic and social traits.

Veterans rated as well as, and in some cases better than, male students of comparable age during pre-war years.

A wonderful bird is the pelican

There is a well-known little verse about the pelican and his gift for gobbling up more than he can swallow.

A parallel is the UAW-CIO demand for higher wages from General Motors.

For General Motors' wages are already high.

In fact, in the last peacetime year, the income of the average GM worker fell in the top third of all incomes in the United States.

We believe in high wages! But we also believe that when wages are already high, the question arises whether further cost reductions that management can bring about may not well be used to lower prices or improve products.

Lowering prices or improving products benefits everybody. Customers get more for their money. The company's business grows. And the growing business is able to employ more and more people.

Wider employment serves the national welfare—and should be a primary objective of all of us.

Thousands of Parcels Being Moved By Mail and Express

Joe Warren and his family during the past few days have certainly been remembering their kinfolks and friends with a deluge of gifts. At the postoffice and express office there have been thousands of parcels and at the post office thousands of cards have been mailed.

Both at the post office and express offices many extra men have been added to the regular force to handle the avalanche of shipments. Extra trucks have also been pressed into service. The wheezy old vehicles of the parcel post department at the postoffice have done valiant service for veterans and the boys who man them are hoping for some of a more modern vintage.

The post office windows will be open this evening until 9 o'clock but will close at 6 on Friday and Saturday. The express offices are open until about 9:30. Both the postoffice and express employes deserve much commendation for the fine service they have given and for the promptness with which they have dispatched the parcels. It is an immense job but it is being carried out with dispatch.

Deliveries were somewhat handicapped by the heavy snowfall of this week and by the fact that mail and express trains were hours late in arriving in the city. In spite of all this the workers aim to have all deliveries of mail arriving delivered on the day of arrival.

Annual Party At YMCA To Be On Friday

The annual Christmas party of the YMCA will be held on Friday, at seven o'clock. All members of the boys department are invited to come and join in the fun.

There will be games in the gym, movies, instrumental music by the Salvation Army band, and refreshments will be enjoyed in the banquet hall on the second floor. Several new games will be introduced and a movie series including both cartoon and musicl numbers will be shown.

The price of admission to the party will be a present which the giver feels will give joy to the receiver. The presents will be given to the Salvation Army for distribution in their Christmas baskets throughout the city.

The committee in charge of the party requests that all the boys planning to attend the party register at the desk in the YMCA not later than Thursday so that the committee will know for how many to prepare.

IRVINE

The Ladies Union of the Irvine Presbyterian church, held their most successful annual Christmas party in the N. F. O. Club House on Thursday evening December 13th in the form of a 6:30 o'clock tureen and chicken dinner.

Eighteen ladies were seated at a dining table attractively centered with Christmas greens which encircled a pyramid of gaily colored tree ornaments, flanked by burning red tapers in crystal holders. "Santa Claus" favors also served as place cards and were the clever handiwork of Mrs. Vicander and Mrs. Nicklas. Room decorations included a prettily trimmed Christmas tree with two miniature lighted trees on mantel-piece.

Following a bountiful dinner, a short business meeting was held during which the minutes of the last meeting was read by the secretary, followed by roll call.

For the devotional period Mrs. Crull read the Christmas story fro mthe Gospels and the subject for the program she presented was "If." Meditations were read by six members with five members taking part in a very impressive candle lighting service.

Preceding and following devotionals all joined in the singing of Christmas Carols, accompanied by Theresa Nelson, piano and Marjorie Hendrickson, violin.

The distribution of gifts was made by a "get and take" method anod caused much amusement.

Serving as a very able committee on arrangements for this most pleasant event were Mrs. Paul Nicklas, chairman with Mrs. Kermit Vicander, Mrs. Ernest Oviatt and Mrs. Charles Robbins acting as aides.

The freewill offering showed the Christmas spirit and added much to the treasury.

Out of town guests for the evening were Mrs. Victor Nelson and Mrs. Bessie Robbins, Torpedo and Mrs. Redmond of Youngsville.

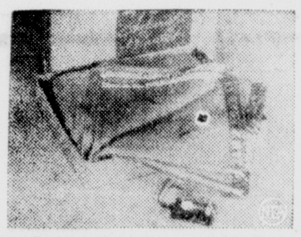

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Kermit Vicander on Thursday evening, Jan. 17th.

SOMETHING ELECTRICAL

A gift of one of the long-missing electrical appliances will make any housewife as happy as the one here, who has just discovered the latest automatic home laundry under the Christmas tree. This model not only washes, rinses and dries clothes for the line, but fills, cleans and empties itself automatically.

Same principles used in electrically warmed aviators' suits have been applied to this G. E. electrical blanket, which automatically adjusts heat to weather changes while you sleep.

This four-pound electric iron has a dial which indicates proper heat for each type of fabric. Edge is beveled to get under buttons. Heat is concentrated in base to provide cool top and handle.

By KATHARINE SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York—Ordinarily, electrical appliances wouldn't be considered exciting Christmas material. But this year any woman who has been struggling along with temperamental toasters, washing machines and vacuum cleaners for more than three years will welcome with open arms one of the new models which will be off the assembly line just around the holidays.

Most of the electrical appliances are continuations of 1942 models, with some mechanical improvements. Not many new or radical designs are available just yet.

WASHING MACHINES: Standard models are expected to be on the market in limited quantities by the middle of December. Orders are being taken for them and will be filled as they are manufactured. The de luxe model with the flat top, designated for installation in kitchen units, will not be available until around the first of the year. Machines will sell at pre-war prices. There'll be no change in outward design, but there will be some mechanical changes.

AUTOMATIC IRONERS will come back about the first of the year. Orders are being taken for first deliveries. Some companies developed new and improved models during the war. Designed to iron men's shirts and dress suits, some fold up like a cabinet when not in use.

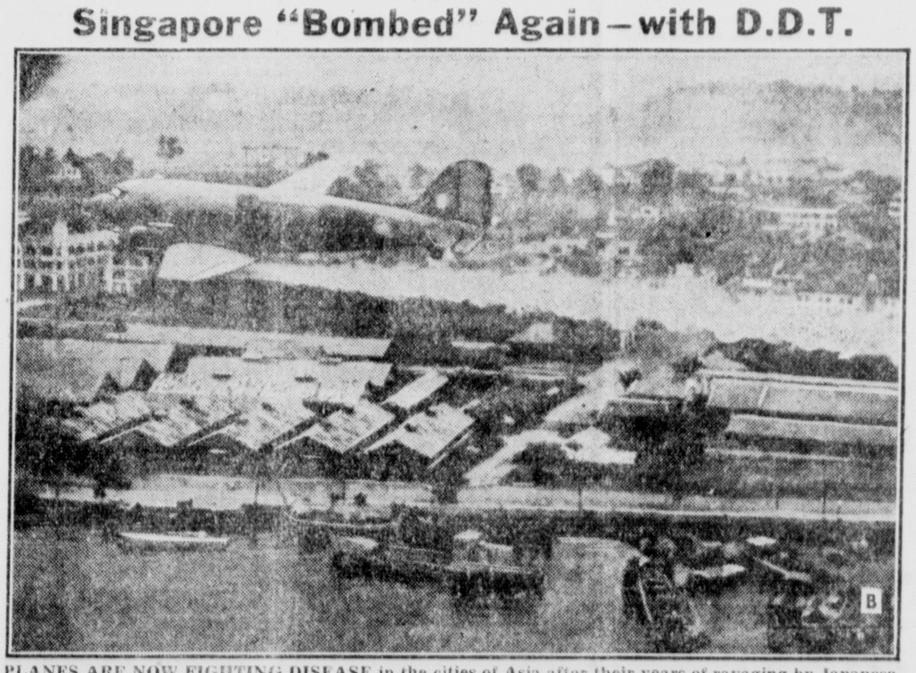

VACUUM CLEANERS: There should be some around Christmas. Large-scale use of plastics and aluminum in the body of the machine by all manufacturers makes new models lighter and easier to use. Wheel and mechanical assembly nave been changed to permit the user to push them around with a finger. Getting away from black and dark grey, new vacuums are being shown in maroon with ivory trimmings, brown or a light grey. However, supplies will be limited until after the first of the year.

IRONS are for the most part the same as pre-war models. One company has developed a cordless iron which may be on the market before Christmas. The cord is attached to the iron's stand and the iron draws its heat from the upper part of the stand. This innovation not only saves cord from tangling, but permits ironed to move around freely.

ELECTRIC TOASTERS, both automatic and non-automatic, should be on the market in limited quantities by Christmas. Though there won't be any basic mechanical changes, many will have a more streamlined look. Electric clocks and roasters also will be available, say distributors, but it will be the early buyer who will be luckiest in getting just the appliance he wants.

Singapore "Bombed" Again—with D.D.T.

PLANES ARE NOW FIGHTING DISEASE in the cities of Asia after their years of ravaging by Japanese. This picture shows a British R.A.F. plane, turning from bombs to insecticide, spraying the waterfront at Singapore with D.D.T. in the fight against mosquitos and malaria. Among other means already being used by the British to combat disease in Singapore is at least one free meal a day for all kiddies under two years old of all nationalities. This scheme is to be extended to all infants under six years old as soon as the British can get the necessary food supplies moving in.

Order Trees For Planting Next Spring

During the war, tree planting in the Cornplanter Forest District, which includes Warren County, was curtailed to some extent by the labor shortage. Next spring more men will, no doubt, be available, and there will be an increase in the number of trees planted.

District Forester John W. Wilson of the Pennsylvania Dept. of Forests and Waters in Warren, announces that tree planters who want seedlings or transplants for delivery in the spring of 1946 should apply for them now. Trees will be reserved in the order in which applications are received until the available supply of such species is exhausted. Some orders for 1946 are already on file, according to Forester Wilson. He states that those who order early will have a better opportunity to get the species they desire.

He recommends spring planting in preference to fall panting; because trees planted in the fall are liable to be heaved by the frost; the are more likely to be injured by the wind, thuus causing winter-killing and on wet or heavy soils, their roots are more subject to decay.

Forester Wilson says the trees will be sold for reforestation; but State trees will not be sold for ornamental or Christmas trees, because that would infringe upon the business of the commercial nurseries.

Only orders for the minimum of 1,000 trees, in lots of 500 of each kind, are acceptable. The price per thousand is $2.00 for seedlings and $5.00 for transplants. Shipments will be made in March or April by express, C.O.D. Money should not be sent with the order.

According to Forester Wilson the following seedlings, one to three years old, will be available next spring for shipment from the State's nurseries: red, white, pitch and Banks pine; Japanese larch; black locust; and black walnut. He also states that red and white pine, white spruce, and hemlock transplants will be shipped. The transplants are seedlings that grew two years in seed beds and were than transferred to transplant beds, where they have grown for two years. It takes more time to plant transplants than seedlings, because ther roots are larger.

The District Forester states that applications for trees can be obtained by writing to the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, Box 343, Warren, Warren County, Pennsylvania.

CORYDON

Corydon, Dec. 17—The annual Christmas party and program sponsored by members of the local Nazarane church will be held Sunday evening December 23. On the committee for the popular Yuletide event are Mrs. J. F. Baltz, Mrs. B. M. Stoltz, Mrs. P. E. Tome, Miss Virginia Crooks.

A Home Economic meeting was held recently at the home of Mrs. P. R. Duntley. Several members were in attendance with supervisor Missc Margaret Reed, demonstrating the art of cake baking with Karo syrup. At a previous gathering time was occupied with novelties of decorative note appropriate to the Christmas season.

The Ladies' Aid Society sponsored another supper last Tuesday evening December 11, in I. O. O. F. hall, however few knew anything about the proposed event until it was over thus with stormy weather conditions also the attendance was extremely small. The previous supper was a fine success with twenty-five or thirty present.

Hostess for Friday club members was Mrs. L. J. Whyte. Cards furnished diversional enjoyments during the afternoon affair with high score token upon conclusion being awarded to Mrs. Mabel Russ, Mrs. Anne Van Sickle, presented slam prize, consolation, Miss Celeste Van Sickle. A New Years party to include all local card members and their husbands is an event planned with Mrs. Clyde LaDow, the assigned hostess. A tureen dinner will be served.

Mrs. B. M. Stoltz, opened her home for members of the Foreign Missionary workers of the Nazarene edifice. There was a goodly number present, spending the time quilting. Upon conclusion the hostess served refreshments.

Robert Ammerman, honorably discharged from the United States service has arrived here from La Salle, Colorado, to spend time with his family residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kraft.

Something that looked like new equipment in highway machinery made its appearance locally for the first time on a recent Friday and tried out with what was termed good results. So far the roads have been kept open and travelers have experienced little difficulty.

Word comes that Jack Reid, of Oil City and Corydon, arrived home on December 6, and after a long absence is being welcomed with a round of parties tendered him by relatives and friends.

The deer season closed Saturday December 15, with a result many fine buck were killed in this section during the two weeks stand. A large buck and two doe recently on a Sunday morning scampered through the lawn at the George Prue home, made their way to river swimming across it to the Elk township slue.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fair accompanied by Jacob Schuler, will spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hatch, in Warren.

Mrs. W. C. Crooks, Sr., have returned from a recent visit in Salamanca, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams have rented the Louis Learn home during the latters absence in Jamestown where they are at present residing.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald English and daughter, spending the first week of December with Corydon and Kinzua relatives has returned to Yorktown, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Williams plan a trip to Little Valley to spend the approaching holiday with the Glenn Williams family.

In the event of continued frigid weather experienced Saturday night and Sunday morning the Allegheny river and Mill stream carrying heavy slush ice at snails pace will like enough result in a stoppage.

Miss Mary Lou Flatt is home from Missionary college in Berrien Springs, Mich., arrjving earlier than expected owing to the flu epidemic prevalent in numerous schools. She is spending the school vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Flatt.

What All the Trouble's About in China

Propaganda smokescreens from both Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist government and the Communist regime in Yenan make a puzzle of the critical situation in Manchuria and North China. But to reliable observers it boils down to the simple situation mapped above. Briefly, it seems doubtful that the Nationalists alone could hold North China against the Communists, so they strongly oppose withdrawal of U. S. Marines and naval forces. The Chinese Reds thinks they can overcome the Nationalists, so bitterly resent the presence of American forces.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

There are a great many items in the Alexander Rashid Co. Store that are hard to describe—such as Art Pictures and 3-dimensional Pictures as well as Religious Pictures—world-famous Vases and figures, Tapestry Covers and Scarfs, Chinese Embroidery and a host of other things that really must be seen to be appreciated. You'll find it a pleasure to look at them and consider them for your home or the homes of those of your friends who appreciate the extraordinary and the different.

Civilian Planes Roll Off First Assembly Line

Personal planes for civilians, turned out by hand before the war, are now rolling off the first mechanized conveyer assembly system to be used in the light plane industry. The conveyer, pictured above, is at the Aeronca plant, Middletown, Ohio. It is 1275 feet long, can carry 45 fuselages in a continuous line and is timed to produce 20 airplanes a day.

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood—That cannonading heard out Culver City way is the Selznick publicity department going to work on "Duel in the Sun." David O. is reported to have finally completed the super-super production and the press campaign is on.

Selznick, who doesn't like to do things in a small way, is said to have thrown $5,000,000 into the picture. For all I know, the figure may be accurate, the movie has a cast of Jennifer Jones, Gregory Peck, Joseph Cotter, Lionel Barrymore, Herbert Marshall, Walter Huston, Dorothy Gish, etc.

It has consumed the efforts of five directors, not to mention David P., who does much of the megaphoning himself. It was nine months in production, more than than Selznick's "Gone With the Wind." The saga of the western frontier will run three hours on the screen, 45 minutes less than "Duel In the Sun" is expected ot greet movie customers next April. But hold the presses—David O. has just called the company back for retakes.

For Those Who Serve

More than 50 members of the American Legion Auxiliary were in attendance at the meeting held Tuesday evening. A splendid report on the rehabilitation work for Christmas was given by Mrs. Claude Hover. Each man and woman in service, whose parents are members of either the Legion or Auxiliary, was remembered with a gift. All disabled and hospitalized veterans were sent gift boxes, and cash donations were made to Deshon and Aspinwall hospitals. A member at Mt. Alto Sanitarium was remembered with a gift, and a donation of cash and coupons was sent toward the erection of a greenhouse at Valley Forge Hospital.

After the business meeting, an evening of delightful entertainment was arranged by Mrs. Richard Hansen and her committee. The large living room was beautiful with Christmas decorations and a brilliantly lighted tree was the center from which gifts were distributed to all members. The following program was then presented, followed by group singing: Two piano numbers, Valcik by Mokrejs and March of the Dwarfs by Grieg, played by Joyce Smith; three solos, Christmas Bells Are Ringing by Hamblen, Jesu Bambino by Pietro Yon, and O, Holy Night, sung by Bonny Johnson, accompanied at the piano by Joyce Smith; two dance numbers, Spanish and Hawaiian, by Mona Jeanne Brooks, accompanied by Ethel Miller. Candles and Christmas greens decorated the table from which refreshments were served and at which Mrs. Ray Shepard and Mrs. J. H. Driscoll presided.

SOCIETY NEWS

Plans Completed By Social Clubs For Holiday Dance

Complete plans have been made for the Social Clubs' annual Christmas Dance, to be held Christmas night at the Woman's Club from 9:30 'til 1:30.

Al Cecchi and His Orchestra, from Olean, N. Y., will provide the music and will feature Lou Russo, a vocalist who has toured with the USO throughout the nation.

Bandleader Cecchi will have a ten-piece band—three saxes, three trumpets, one trombone, piano, drums, and vocalist. The orchestra is rated as one of the top organizations in the section.

Tickets for the dance are already on sale and may be obtained from members of the Social Clubs or at the door Tuesday night.

HOSPITAL ALUMNI HAS ANNUAL PARTY

About 40 persons were in attendance for the annual Christmas party of the Warren General Hospital Alumni Association, held Monday evening in the YWCA activities building. Music was provided by Eleanor Swanson, pianist, and her brother, Neil Swanson, cornetist, the two also playing an accompaniment for group singing. A gift exchange was another feature of the evening.

Serving as the entertainment committee for the evening were Sigrid Johnson and Alvida Lucia. Refreshments were in charge of Louise Spies, with Margaret Ostergard, Katherine Frantz, Margaret Horan, Nora Eaton and Velma Nason as assistants.

LUTHERAN GROUPS HAVING PARTY

The nursery and primary teachers of First Lutheran church will have a Christmas party in the Sunday school rooms on Saturday, from three until five, and extend a cordial invitation to all children of these groups to be in attendance.

WILL REHEARSE

Children of the primary department of the First Presbyterian Sunday school will practice in the department rooms at two o'clock Saturday afternoon. Sunday school will be at the usual hour on Sunday, they are reminded.

LACY SCHOOL UNIT

Patrons and friends of Lacy PTA were greeted for the December meeting by beautifully painted windows depicting the scene of the nativity. The windows, painted by art classes under the supervision of Miss VanLuvanee, were lighted for the occasion.

During the brief business session conducted by Mrs. Virgil Kittner, Mrs. Francis Kotmair, past president, was presented with a PTA pin. The room award went to Miss Paterson's group. Mrs. Ernest Huber then presented the following very enjoyable program:

Songs by seventh grade, accompanied by Miss Peterson; I Heard the Bells, and Silent Night; Bluebird of Happiness, a toe waltz done by Martha Ann Edwards, accompanied by Mrs. Edwards; carol singing led by Harry A. Summers; ladies' chorus of Salem Evangelical church: There's a Song in the Air, and Christmas Night, with Ruth Ackert as accompanist. To conclude, refreshments were served by third grade mothers.

Party Compliments Officers of Star

An atmosphere of true Christmas spirit prevailed within the private dining room of the YWCA activities building Wednesday evening at a dinner given by officers of the Order of Eastern Star in honor of Worthy Matron Grace Schuler and Worthy Patron Guy O. McKinley.

The theme for this annual occasion, known as "Winter Wonderland", no doubt was given cooperation by the weather man. The table appointments of blue and silver were carried throughout the dinner, with a silver Christmas tree in the center complemented with star-shaped forms filled with blue ornaments, these reflecting the lights from white tapers with accents of silver and surrounded by pine boughs. Miniature silver trees with favors marked the places of guests.

Margaret Gleese, chairman, was assisted by Mildred Ostergard, who proved a capable toast mistress for a program in keeping with the Christmas theme. Mable Smith was accompanist for the group singing.

Following dinner, the remainder of the evening was enjoyed in the social rooms.

Shirley Benson Is Bride of R. E. Lee

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benson, 26 South Carver street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Shirley, to Robert Edward Lee, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Lee, Main street, North Warren, on Wednesday, December 12, at six o'clock in Grace Methodist church, Rev. Harold Knappenberger performing the ceremony.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, was lovely in a lavender suit with black accessories and corsage of yellow roses and baby's breath. Mrs. Benson wore red roses with a gray suit.

They will be at home to their friends at 26 South Carver street until December 25, when Mr. Lee will return to his ship in Boston for further duty.

Mrs. Lee was graduated from Warren High School in the Class of 1944.

Real Feature Booked For Outing Club

Frank Williams, who does the booking for the Marconi Outing Club has secured for this weekend one of the best attractions he has booked in a long time. It is the Ferrari Musical Review. They present the entire program and feature Hawiian guitars and other musical instruments as well as some good singing and clever dancing.

Mr. Williams also announced that workmen are engaged today in clearing the parking lot of snow and distributing cinders so that auto drivers may enter and leave the club with no difficulty.

Reservations are now being made for the New Year's party at the clubhouse on New Year's even. It is planned to arrange the tables so that a large crowd can be handled and then to limit the reservations to the number that can be seated. It is expected that this arrangement will add much to the pleasure of the affair. Reservations are being taken at the club.

WHO WANTS PUPPY?
The Janes family at 1008 Fourth avenue would like to find a good home for a ten-weeks old female puppy, an ideal Christmas gift for any boy or girl.

NO SCOUT PROGRAM
Boy Scout headquarters, which had previously reminded all its Scouters of a round table to be held this evening, calls attention to the postponement of the event until some time in January.

BOARD SCHEDULE
The local office of the war price and rationing board announces it will observe the following schedule for the holiday period: Closed December 22, 24, 25, 31 and January 1. To compensate, the office will remain open on Saturdays, December 29 and January 5.

GETTING MANY FISH
Near Akeley men and boys have been engaged in fishing through the ice with pole and line and during the past few days some good catches have been made. One string of fish brought down contained some exceptionally big bullheads.

BARBER SHOP HOURS
Announcement has been made that barber shops of the borough will be open Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings until eight o'clock. Monday, Christmas eve, they will close at six o'clock. Wednesday, December 26th, the shops will be open all day.

ATTRACTS ATTENTION
Those who have had occasion to visit the west side of town, as well as residents of that section, are unanimous in praises of Christmas decorations at the home of Frank Tamburine, 1520 Allegheny avenue. Decorations in the windows, the Nativity Scene, and carols coming from the home are enhanced by a new thought for 1945, a uniformed soldier on the front porch with a caption "Welcome Home, Boys".

ERECTING DECORATIONS
Russell Anderson, chairman of the committee in charge of the Moose Christmas party for kiddies of members of the order is about the busiest man in Warren today. He is erecting the big Christmas tree today and getting decorations in place. The party will be held tomorrow evening and the event promises to be a happy one with a kiddies floor show, old Santa with gifts and treats for all who attend.

The only electric train to be displayed in Warren this Christmas time is in the window of the Darling Jewelry store and it is winning a great amount of attention from the kiddies. Electric trains are scarcer than hens teeth, according to the city newspapers, and to have one on display sure puts Eddie Sullivan in an upper bracket of something. He is also showing Baby Brownie cameras which are also few and far between.

4 cups cooked elbow macaroni
2 cups cheese sauce

Place sausage links in cold frying pan. Add water, cover and cook until water evaporates. Remove cover and brown. Line bottom of loaf pan with wax paper. Stand links around the sides of the pan. Combine macaroni and cheese sauce and pour into the pan. Bake at 350° 30 minutes.

Almond Wafers

¼ cup butter or margarine
⅛ cup powdered sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon milk
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
1¼ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ cup chopped almonds
½ teaspoon almond extract

Cream butter or margarine and powdered sugar. Drop in unbeaten egg and beat thoroughly with milk and flavorings. Add sifted flour and baking powder. Make into a soft dough. Shape into a roll and place in refrigerator for two hours. Cut into one-eighth inch slices. Sprinkle with granulated sugar and chopped almonds. Bake at 400° 15 minutes.

Chinese Nationalist Soldiers Are Obedient and Stoical

By HAL BOYLE

Chinhsien, Manchuria, Dec. 20—(AP)—Some notes on the Chinese Nationalist soldier:

Above all, he is obedient and stoical. These are both virtues and defects of his people but the qualities liked by all military leaders.

He will stand for hours on guard duty in thin canvas and rubber shoes, shouldering his rifle uncomplainingly in light cotton gloves. He will stand then until til he freezes if if he isn't relieved—and in Manchuria some are freezing to death.

He will fight well, particularly if he is in one of the American trained outfits, but he doesn't know too well what he is fighting for. He is probably a conscript because there are comparatively few volunteers in Chiang Kai Shek's armies. Troop levies are made in every area under national control and local village leaders are told they must produce a certain number of soldiers for the central government.

He is almost certainly from a poor family and usually off the farm. If he were a rich man's son or had money himself he could buy his way out by paying "squeeze" dough to the right man—just as wealthy men buying the American civil war hired substitutes to fight for them.

People who know both armies say the Chinese Communist ranks contain more volunteers and therefore more idealists.

He likes his American weapons, especially if he has a tommy gun. He can use it well, too. He isn't as haphazard with guns as you might think. Those who get to drive jeeps—perhaps one in 10,000—are crazy about them. They drive like madmen and use the horn instead of brake and have a high casualty influence on animal and human pedestrians.

He has the same doglike loyalty to his own unit typical of all good fighting outfits everywhere. Unless he is mortally dying he will rise from a sickbed and join his buddies rather than be left behind. No army unable to instill this community spirit can succeed unless it is fighting paper windmills.

He has a tendency to believe women were created solely for his own pleasure and has the habit of entering homes of Japanese widows after dark without knocking. But Japanese troops working under them are treated tolerantly.

He subsists on food that would turn a hard-living American Marine's nose skyward in howling anger.

He likes Americans. If he is standing by when a Chinese merchant tries to charge an American soldier three bucks for a two-buck fur cap, he promptly interferes and tells the merchant to go to the Chinese hades.

He hardly knows what medicines are. He is sick most often from dysentery because he doesn't know what sanitation means any more than he can spell it. If he gets a really serious illness nature must pull him through. There are usually 25,000 men in a Chinese Nationalist army—although the paper strength is put at 30,000 so commanders can fudge on drawing supplies. Each army has only one well trained doctor. The rest of the medical corps are pill bearers and bandage men.

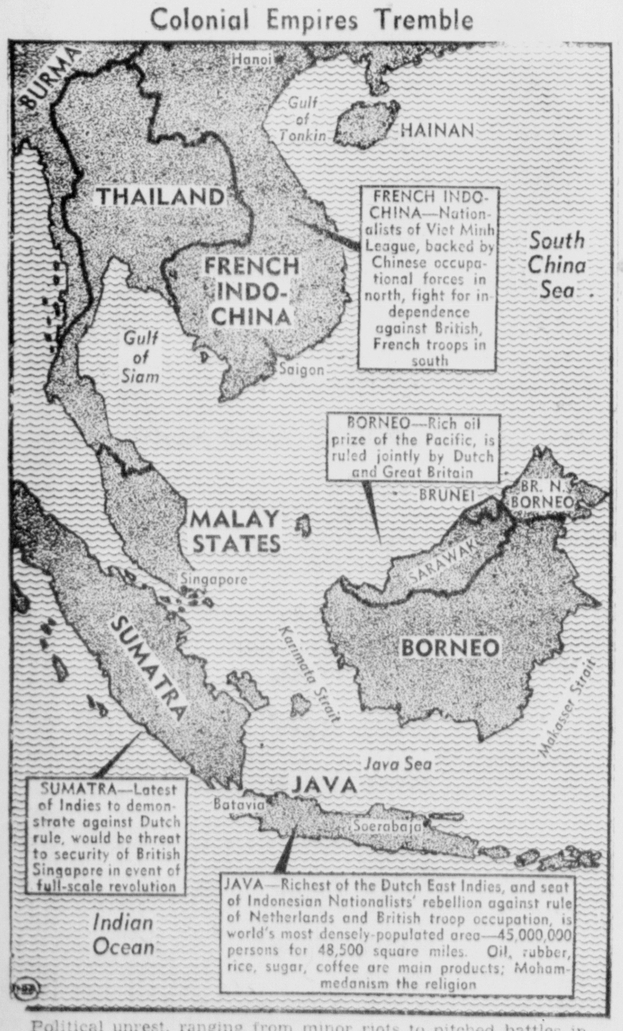

Like fighting men all over the world, he loves to drink and gamble. He is the biggenest soldier in existence and will gamble on anything from a horse race to the number of hairs on Chiang Kai-Shek's head.

They'll Live in Governor's Mansion

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. White of Kent, O., will occupy, rent free, a two-room apartment in the Ohio Executive Mansion at Columbus, O., at the invitation of Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Discharged from the Army in October with the rank of second lieutenant, White plans to attend Ohio State University under the GI Bill of Rights. The governor made the offer in the declared hope that others will follow the example of attempting to provide housing for veterans unable to find satisfactory places to live.

Colonial Empires Tremble

Political unrest, ranging from minor riots to pitched battles in Indo-China, Java and Sumatra, are shaking the foundations of British, French and Dutch colonial empires in the Far East. Indo-China wants freedom from French rule; Java and Sumatra Indonesians fight against Dutch domination and occupation by British troops. Borneo, rich oil center, may be next scene of demonstrations against British-Dutch overseers.

LUDLOW

Ludlow, Dec. 17—Regular services were held in Moriah Lutheran church on Sunday at nine-thirty o'clock with the sermon text being, "Message of Cheer" which was given by the Rev. Hans Pearson. Mrs. Emil Nelson sang "O For a Faith That Will Not Shrink." Sunday school followed with rehearsals held for the Christmas program which will be given at six o'clock on the night after Christmas, Wednesday, December 26. The Christmas morning service will begin at eight o'clock.

The Christmas Cantata, "Night of Holy Memories" by Wilson was given by the Moriah church choir with assistants to an audience which filled the church auditorium to capacity, many out-of-town, at four o'clock on Sunday afternoon. The cantata was directed by Mrs. Emil Nelson and accompanied by Mrs. Enoch Nelson. Soprano soloist was Mrs. Benjamin K. Connelly, soprano, Mrs. Walter Cox, Miss Macie Johnso , altos, Leland Engman, bass, Carl L. Swanson, tenor. The alto obligato was carried by Mrs. Walter Cox, Mrs. Wm. Hanson, Miss Macie Johnson and Mrs. Algot Swanson, and one alto part was taken by Miss Macie Johnson and Mrs. Wm. Hanson. This annual event helps the community to begin the Christmas celebration as it usually is given about two weeks before Christmas and is followed by the school activities to which everyone looks forward also. The offertory solo, "Cantique de Noel", was sung by Mr. Leland Engman, baritone, who has just recently returned from overseas service. The Christmas setting of a tree and candles helped to achieve a beautiful effect.

The Martha Society of Moriah Lutheran church was entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the Christmas meeting by Mrs. Jennie Moberg and Mrs. Amalia Mattison and was conducted in the church parlors with thirty-three members and guests present. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. C. J. Carlson, and Scripture reading and prayer was given by the Rev. Hans Pearson. During the business meeting announcement was made of two collections, Prayer Day $11.00, "Open House" in the Sheffield parsonage $18.50 which shall be used for the Post War Emergency Fund. It was agreed to give $7.50 to Lutheran World Relief and $7.50 to Dime Books. The nominating committee of Mrs. Ed. Wenstran, Mrs. Axel K. Anderson and Mrs. Albert Bramstang presented the following people for officers for 1946; president, Mrs. C. J. Carlson, vice president, Mrs. Silas Johnson; secretary, Mrs. Enoch Nelson; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Nelson; financial secretary, Mrs. Jelmar Mattison; organist, Mrs. Amalia Mattison; refreshments committee, Mrs. Albert Bramstang and Mrs. Benj. Peterson; Mission Tidings secretary, Mrs. C. E. Carlson, and Boxes of Blessing secretary, Mrs. Dan Swanson. The following program was given: Reading Mrs. C. E. Carlson, vocal duet, Mrs. B. K. Connelly and Mrs. Amalia Mattison, and reading, Mrs. Ed. Wenstran. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting after which Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Messers Axel and Adolph Nelson were hosts to the December meeting of the Lutheran Brotherhood on Thursday evening in the church parlors with a splendid attendance. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mr. E. W. Johnson, and regular business was attended. Scripture reading and prayer was given by the Rev. Hans Pearson. The following program was given: Harmonica solo, E. O. Nelson, talk concerning experiences in Europe by Lt. Karl E. Olson of the army, who has just recently returned from overseas service, Swedish vocal duet, Mrs. Wm. Hanson and Mr. Carl L. Swanson, and a Baritone solo, Mr. Leland Engman. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

The annual meeting of the Ludlow District Boy Scout Committee was held on Wednesday evening at Scout Headquarters with Mr.

SUBPOENA IN DIVORCE

In Warren County, Common Pleas, No. 42 Sept. Term, 1945.

Galon W. Faulkner, Libellant vs. Mabel M. Faulkner, Respondent.

To the above named Respondent:

Whereas, subpoena and alias subpoena have been returned "Non est inventus" in this case, you are therefore hereby notified to be and appear in your proper person before the Judges of said Court at the Court House in the Borough of Warren at a Court of Common Pleas, in and for said county, there to be held on the first Monday in January, being the seventh day, to answer the complaint of the Libellant and show cause, if any you have, why a divorce from the bonds of matrimony should not be granted to the Libellant agreeably to the prayer of the petition or libel exhibited against you before the said Court and the Acts of Assembly in such cases made and provided. And this you shall nowise omit at your peril.

New York Socialites Elope

Principals in a surprise airplane elopement from New York to Philadelphia were Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, 33, heir to the Vanderbilt fortune, and Jeanne Lourdes Murray, 22, cousin of Mrs. Henry Ford II. It was her first marriage, his second. They are shown, above, in a New York night club.

Needed Housing and Nutrition In Farm Reconversion Goals

The fourth annual Goals Conference was held at Altoona last week. Ane hundred seventy-five people attended a banquet in the evening of December 12 in the Penn Alto Hotel, but the general attendance was a little short of this figure. Senator Guffey and Waldo R. McNutt, president of the eastern division of the National Farmers Union, addressed the banquet guests. Both pleaded for a better understanding between farmers and the consumers of farm products. Better and more favorable relations between agriculture and labor are essential, they said, if we are to have a perfor all the people of the country. The opening session was addressed by Dr. Marion K. McKay, of the University of Pittsburgh.

The goals recommended for the several commodities considered by the goals committee were not released since they must be submitted to the secretary of agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson, first. When these goals are reviewed and adjusted at Washington they will be made available on a broad national scale, possibly in the latter part of January. The Committee on Agricultural Reconversion, however, made broad recommendations affecting our agricultural population during the peace-time reconversion period. We summarize some of the objejctives of this committee as approved by the general conference:

1. A land policy that will help the family type farm unit and benefit especially the subsistence farmer who represent 50 per cent of our agricultural population and produces a mere 15 per cent of our farm crops. Better housing must be provided for farmers through long term credit policies.

2. Continued price controls to prevent inflation and government subsidies during the time that of adeqquate returns from the sale of specific commodities. Production goals should be based upon adequate nutritional needs of our population plus export demands. They should not be determined by a policy of restricted production and high prices resulting from scarcity.

3. The committee favored the development of regional valley au authorities of the TVA plan, involve decentralized, self-liquidating administration units and the construction of multiple purpose dams for flood valley authorities should be established for the Susqquehanna, Schuylkill, Delaware, Allegheny and Monongahela river volve the cities as well as the farms of Pennsylvania in the common problems of conservation and flood control.

4. Adequate nutrition for our population was recommended by public support of the school lunch program and the installation of nutritional courses in all our 14 teachers colleges as a means of properly using government funds in rural and centralized schools. The expanded use of school lunches provides for better nutrition for children of all groups and classes and stimulates the consumption of surplus food commodities.

5. The committee recommendfunds for conservation of soil through more conservation districts and for rural roads.

Reports of this Goals Conference will be summarized by the State AAA Committee for distribution by committeemen in 800 Pennsylvania communities when farmers are contracted for an enrollment in the 1946 Agricultural Conservation program. County AAA committees will call commodity groups into county meetings to discuss the county goals set up for Pennsylvania within the next 30 days.

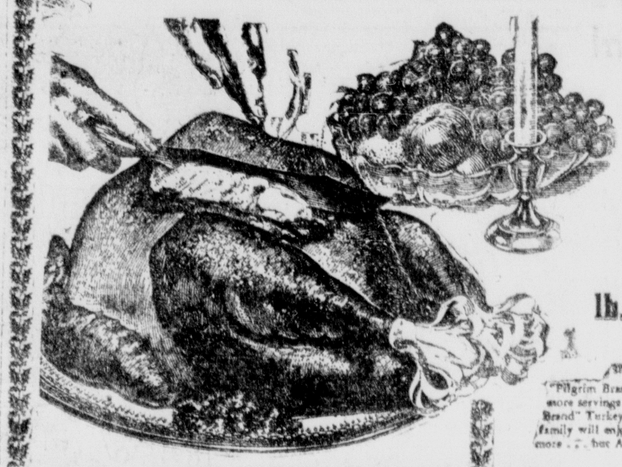

Attending the conference from Warren county were A. H. Bradley, county committeeman of Akeley, R. D., and Carleton J. Curtis, of Columbus, R. D., representing county dairy farmers.

Pattern for 1946 food production, as set by Agriculture Secretary Anderson's announced goals for the year, are shown in chart above, which compares 1946 outlook with 1945 production. Goals generally call for reduction, with notable exceptions in sugar, wheat and corn. Total of 356,244,000 planted acres is proposed.

Today's hand came from Cpl. Oscar Eichman, who recently returned to New York from China. While in China, he and his companions made some duplicate boards and kept up their interest in tournament play. When Eichman made a grand slam on this hand, he mailed it to his wife. The war was not yet over at the time he mailed it, and the army censor was evidently a bridge player. He did not delete anything, but he made a notation on the hand that, in his opinion, the last two bids of Eichman and his partner were overbids.

Eichman won the opening lead with the ace of spades and ruffed a spade in dummy. A trump return was won with the ace and Eichman discarded a low club. The king of hearts was cashed and a diamond led to the ace. The trumps broke and declarer was able to discard his two losing clubs on dummy's long diamonds.

BULLETINS

Winigan, Mo., Dec. 20—(AP)—Two bandit suspects surrendered and a third shot and killed himself when cornered in a farm house in a densely wooded area near here last night by a posse nine hours after the Citizens State Bank of Winigan had been held up and robbed of $5,000.

Rome, Dec. 20—(AP)—Preliminary reports indicate all but one or two of approximately 50 men aboard the Liberty ship Nathaniel Bacon, which struck two mines off Civitavecchia Tuesday night, have been saved, War Shipping Administration officials here said today.

GI's Prepare For Dragon Clash Wed.

Some 15 ex-servicemen and GI's are already cocking their sights for the annual wartime Servicemen's Game which will match the soldiers, sailors, marines, and fliers of the U. S. against Warren's undefeated Dragons next Wednesday night at the Beaty gymnasium.

"Elmo" Wolfe, a recent dischargee from the paratroops and one of Warren's top athletes, will head the combination of servicemen who will attempt to upset the "Big Five."

Already lined up for the encounter by Coach Wolfe are brother "Tink" Wolfe, who arrived home yesterday on furlough; "Warnie" Check, also on leave from the navy; Art McKeehan, a member of the championship quint from Warren High in 1938; Louis Check, also discharged; and Jim Eaton, 6 ft. 4 in. Dragon center of two years ago. "Warnie" Check "Tink" Wolfe, and Art McKeehan all helped put Warren on the basketball map with their crack outfit in '38.

Wolfe stated yesterday that he expected numerous other servicemen, who at one time played for W.H.S., to be on hand for the holiday classic. Any former Dragon cager who is at present in the service or who has been recently discharged may engage in the fracas. All players are asked to contact Wolfe.

This year's servicemen's tilt will undoubtedly be the last of its sort, for it is expected that a return will be made to the original collegian affair.

Next Wednesday's game will start at 8:30, preceded by a preliminary at 7:30 between two teams as yet unannounced. Willard Zerbe will officiate.

School Comes First For This Gridiron Hero

Lock Haven, Dec. 20—(AP)—Bab Eyer, 18-year-old farmboy, isn't going to let a thing like a little All-America ranking go to his head.

The modest freshman, star end for the Lock Haven Teachers College football team, says he received bids to play professional football with the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants but turned them both down.

He wants to finish his education first. Besides he expects to be called into military service soon—he was only 18 a month ago—and when he gets out of the army, he'll go back to college.

Max Bossert, Lock Haven coach, says Eyer is "showing mighty good judgment in wanting to continue his schooling," but admits proudly that his protege is "ertainly a pro candidate."

"He's one of those rare players who can smell out a play," Bossert says. "He knows where the ball carrier's coming from before the play starts."

Eyer was named on the 1945 Associated Press Little All-America eleven shortly after he gained prominence by winning the first team end post on the All-Pennsylvania team.

Lock Haven, which staked claim to the unofficial State Teachers College title after defeating Bloomsburg Teachers 8-7, won four games and lost two this past season.

Stiff Action In City Loop At YM Tonight

City League court action returns to the YMCA hardwood tonight for the final appearance before the Christmas holidays. Tonight's preliminary pits first-place Struthers against last-place Blomquists, and the nightcap brings together the Bakers Cleaners and Youngsville in a battle that will break a two-day third-place tie.

One half of the 1945-6 independent cage league has been completed, and tonight's affairs open the mythical second division. The rapid-fire Struthers outfit is rated as the No. 1 contender for title honors, but Sheffield's O'Connors must not be under-rated.

At 7:30 tonight, the Wellsmen tackle winless Blomquists. Manager "Red" Swanson will probably send his usual starting lineup into action, including "Elmo" Wolfe and Bob Chase at forwards, Ray Ritchie at center, and Willard Zerbe and Bill Massa at the guard posts. Blomquists will send Bob Pascuzzi and Curt Valentine into action at forwards, Nick Wendelboe at center, and Bud Matthews and Al Buerkle at guards.

This evening's nightcap will send the winner into undisputed possession of third place. Bakers and Youngsville both have one win against two losses. McGarry and Tucker will hold forward posts for the Cleaners, Hammerbeck will be at the tip-off position, and Toyer and Frankowski will be in the guard slots. For Youngsville, forwards will be Abplanalp and Randinelli, the cetner will be Murphy, and guards will be Dunkle and Richards.

Gophers Flop Of the Year-Poll Reveals

By TED MEIER

New York, Dec. 20—(AP)—The University of Minnesota football team, which started off like a house on fire, then lost five in a row, today was named the "flop of the year" in the annual Associated Press yearend poll.

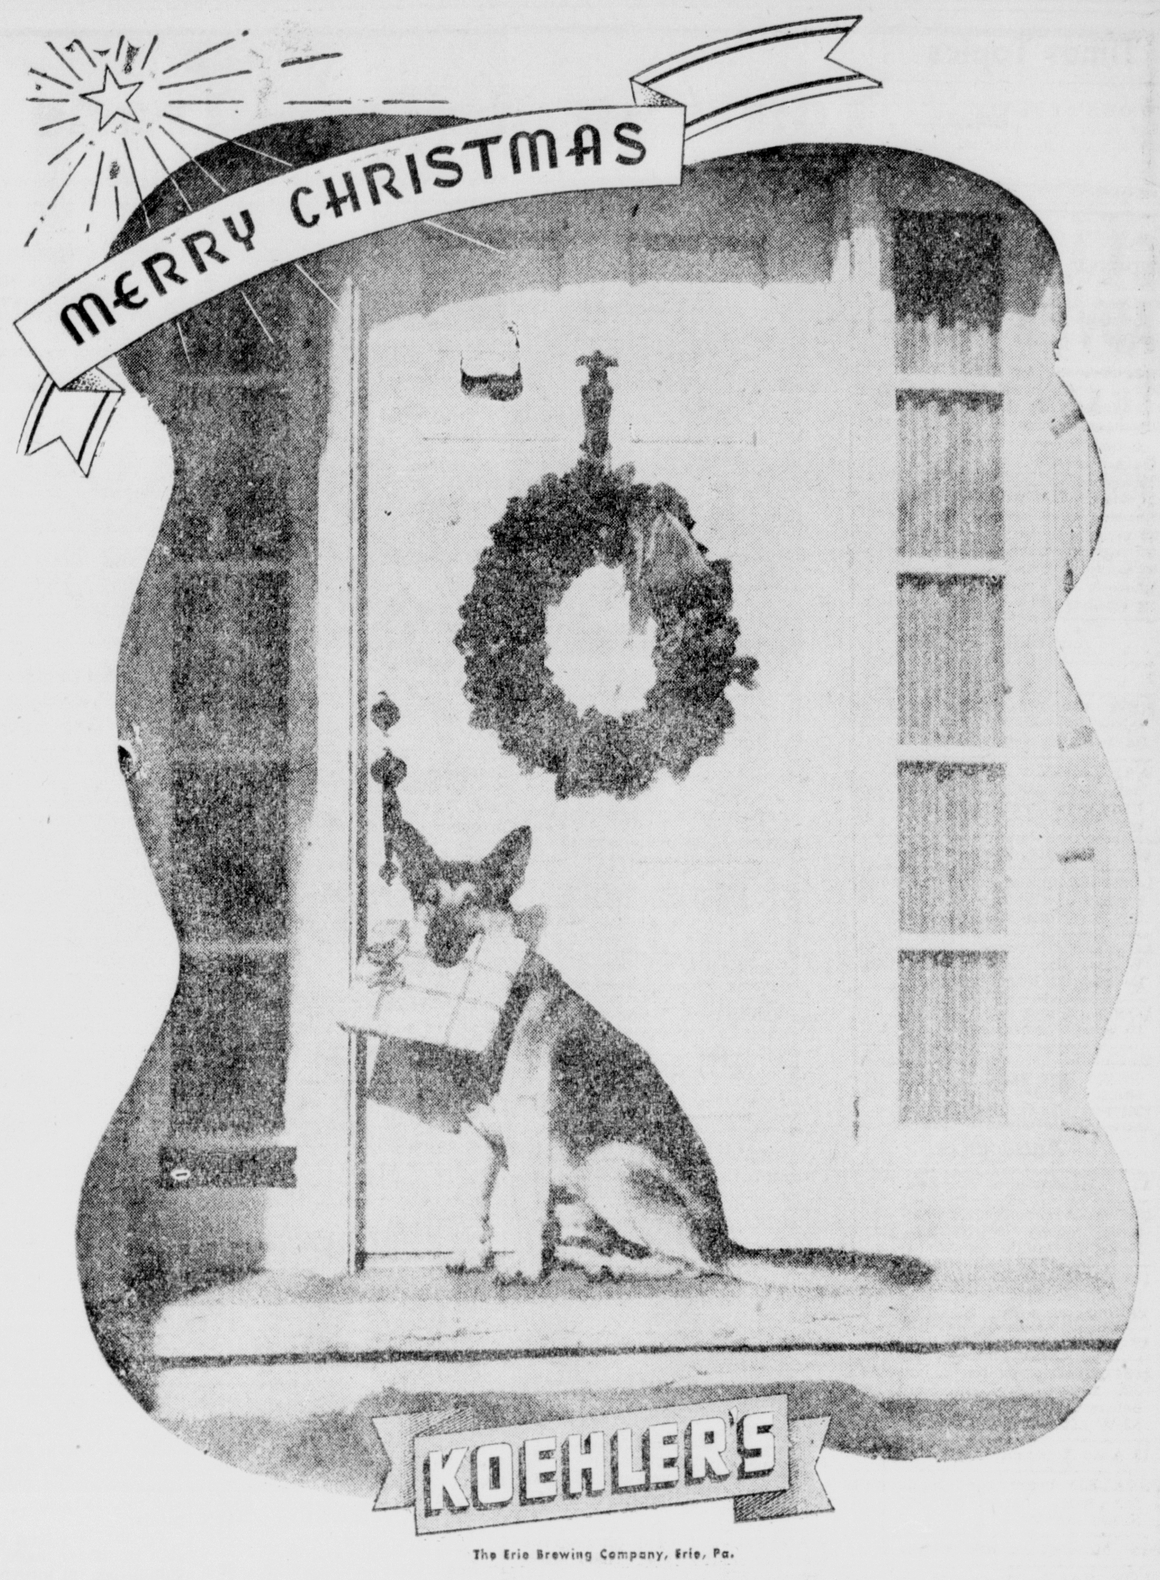

The collapse of the Golden Gophers was far and away the biggest disappointment singled out by the sports writers participating in the voting. It polled a total of 112 points compared to the St. Louis baseball Cardinals, whose failure to again win the National League pennant, put them in second place at 32 points.

With Bernie Bierman back on the coaching job, Minnesota started off like a pre-war powerhouse in brushing aside Missouri, 34-0, Nebraska, 61-7, Fort Warren, 14-0, and Northwestern, 30-7.

The tide turned on October 17 when Ohio State came up with a 20-7 victory. Michigan and Indiana followed with 26-0 and 49-0 triumphs and Iowa, the "weak sister" of the western conference, startled everyone by scoring a 20-19 victory. Wisconsin then plastered a 26-12 defeat on the Gophers in the last game of the season.

The failure of the Chicago Bears in the National Football League was ranked third with 30 points, only one point ahead of the St. Louis Browns who were expected to repeat their 1944 pennant winning of the American League.

Rounding out the remainder of the top ten disappointments were Bill Nicholson, Chicago Cubs outfielder; Gunder Haegg, track star; A. B. "Happy" Chandler, baseball's new commissioner; the New York baseball Yankees; Pitcher Mort Cooper, who was sold by the Cards to the Boston Braves; and the Navy football team.

SPORTS ACROSS PENNSYLVANIA

By Tom Shriver

SPOTS ACROSS PENNA . . . . .

Harrisburg, Dec. 20—(AP)—A recent reference to the quintet of six footers who are keeping Warren High in the ranks of the undefeated brought a flood of reports concerning other lanky schoolboy basketball players . . . . Jack Eaton, the Warren center is six foot, five inches . . . . But Corry claims a player who hits the 6 foot 7 mark . . . . From Erie comes word that Joe Zuravleff, who made the all-state football team, is now a basketball star . . . . He ranges up to six foot, four . . . . Jack Potter, at Smethport, is another 6 foot 4 youth, while his teammate, Jerry Canaan tops the six foot mark by one inch . . . . And we almost forgot Andy Butchko, at Sharon, who is 6-4 . . . . Over at Williamsport they have two six footers . . . . Alan Myers, who is only a junior owers two inches above the six foot mark . . . . John Perrotto, another junior, is just an inch shorter.

Basketball fans across the state will be sorry to learn that Harold Brace, Bradford coach, is among the many down with the grippe . . . . The germs hit the Bradford area pretty hard . . . . In fact the Bradford-Falconer game was called off when Don Wright was the only member of the Owls starting five to show up at school . . . . Coach Brace has a unique record . . . . In 17 years of coaching his teams have missed the PIAA playoffs only once . . . . Few coaches have been with a team over a longer span . . . . Hughie McGeehan at Hazleton is one of the exceptions . . . . He is starting his 21st year and heading for another title fight . . . . Birney Crum at Allentown rounded out 20 years of coaching with a state title . . . . Johnny Goepfort at Mahonoy City has been around a long time . . . . And always comes up with a winner . . . . His 1945-46 team is unbeaten in four starts.

Lou Pickeiner writes that he is giving up his job as sports editor at the Williamsport Gazette-Bulletin . . . . He is getting into the lumber business . . . . And he will be missed a lot by the sports followers in central Pennsylvania . . . His job will be filled by Howard Dewald, an ex-serviceman, who is taking over just in time to see Williamsport high make a real try for the District Four title.

Plenty of Personals

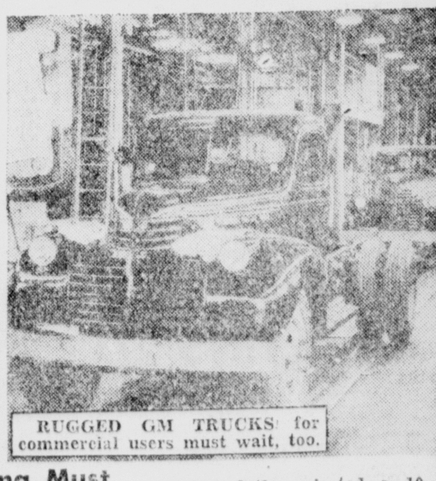

Eddie Urban, who has just returned to the Lansford Record as sports editor sends in a note about a game in which the two teams were charged with 48 personal fouls . . . . The contestants were Coaldale and Mahanoy Township . . . . The Coaldale team, built around last season's football stars, was nicked for 30 personals . . . . And played the last two minutes with only two men on the court . . . . The only man left on the Coaldale bench was Coach Tom Raymer . . . . And he had his hand in a sling as the result of a recent automobile accident.

New Football Coach

Shamokin High has named new football coach to repl Walter Hall, who resigned in r season . . . . The new grid men is Michael "Gish" Klembara . He was an assistant coach Bloomsburg State Teachers C lege under the late Austin T . . . . He graduated from Shamo in 1927 . . . . While in school was an outstanding center.

Here's Your New Car---Stalled by Strike

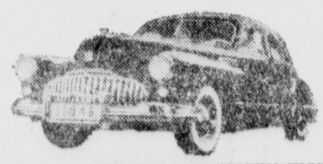

Your 1946 automobile may be stranded on the assembly lines.

A nationwide strike has paralyzed General Motors, the world's largest producer of passenger cars, trucks and buses, forcing consumers to wait indefinitely for essential transportation.

The strike was called by the United Automobile Workers (CIO) to enforce demands for a 30 per cent wage increase. The Union flatly rejected a 10 cent increase offered by Gene Motors as a living cost adjustme

The strike involves 175, hourly-rated employes. They losing nearly $2,000,000 in wa daily, and these losses affect directly every phase of the tion's economy. Coincidenta striking Union members ha barred 50,000 office workers fr their jobs in GM plants.

How Long Must You Wait?

Feller's Little Feller

Ace pitcher Bob Feller of Cleveland Indians throws out his chest and swells with pride, just as any father, as he admires his new son, Stephen Robert Feller, through nursery windows at Waukegan, Ill., hospital. Young Steve will be another fastballer, no doubt.

Tire Rationing May End By January 1st

Washington, Dec. 20—(AP)—The prospects for an end of tire rationing by Jan. 1 continue good, government officials said today.

These sources, who asked that their names not be used, said there had been no developents to cause a revision of previous productions that the rationing program would be scrapped soon.

John D. Small, head of the civilian production administration, said several weeks ago it was likely tire controls could be lifted around the first of the year.

Merger of the armed services—which Mr. Truman asked in his tenth message yesterday.

So-called "full employment" legislation.

Creation of fact-finding machinery to handle major labor disputes.

Liberalization of unemployment compensation rates.

Increases in current statutory minimum wages.

Disposal of war-created merchant shipping surpluses, and

Many of those matters were the subjects of specific recommendations in one or more of Mr. Truman's ten messages.

The lawmakers flatly rejected the president's bid for new labor legislation by Christmas; months earlier they refused to enact a work-or-fight law despite White House insistence; and they didn't get out of committees a Truman request for repeal of the Johnson act restricting loans to foreign nations in default on their debts.

In the matter of investigations, the 79th congress was in a class by itself. Through committees it undertook more or less extensive inquiries into the Pearl Harbor attack, the state department program in China, food, the financial transactions of Elliott Roosevelt, and the operation of veterans' hospitals.

On the very first day of the session the house made permanent its committee on un-American activities.

The legislators weren't backwards in the matter of travel, either. The summer vacation cut short by Japan's surrender found scores of them visiting and investigating in scattered corners of the globe.

Winds and Frost Still Keep Icy Hand on Keystone State

last night were cancelled in Philadelphia and Easton.

The state hoighway department kept all of the main roads open during the night, battling drifts piled up by a 20-mile wind.

Today road crews manned equipment to clear secondary roads and snowbound farm communities.

Trains, running as late as two hours yesterday, were back on a fairly normal schedule today. Street cars and buses also returned to schedule after 24 hours of irregular operation in some communities.

The state hoghway department reported all state roads open in spite of new snow, ranging from one to six inches, which fell overnight in various sections of the state.

The department said snow plows and cindering crews are at work reducing generally slippery conditions and clearing away snow especially in southwestern Pennsylvania, where drifting was reported.

Will Discuss Reorganizing Penna. Guard

Indiantown Gap, Dec. 20—(AP)—(More than 400 high-ranking officers and state officials were invited to a conference late today) with the dual purpose of outlining plans for reorganizing the Pennsylvania National Guard and greeting its overseas commander, Major General Norman D. Cota.

A year ago, Pennsylvania's 28th Division after beating off an assault of nine German divisions that had caught the "Keystone Division" in a rest camp, helped return the "Battle of the Bulge."

The division, called into federal service with non-divisional Pennsylvania units before Pearl Harbor, was deactivated last week at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Invitations were extended to former Pennsylvania National Guard officers, reserve officers who served with the division during World War II, and officers of the wartime Pennsylvania Guard, ranking as major or higher, and to the governor's cabinet and ranking officers of Indiantown Gap military reservation, the Pennsylvania troops' "home" training base.

Apart from the 28th Division, Pennsylvania supplied numerous guard troops for World War II.

The governor and Cota will 9:30 p. m., with a re-broadcast broadcast state-wide from 9 to transcription at 9:30.

The committee, now in its sixth week of hearings, aims to wind up the inquiry Feb. 15 by working longer each day and cutting short its Christmas recess. Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) said some members were doubtful about reaching that goal, although all were "hopeful."

Barkley was ready to introduce in the senate an extension resolution agreed upon by the committee in a long private session late yesterday. The Kentuckian said he hoped for unanimous senate consent and then for quick action by the house.

Two Boys Dead In Clarion Co. Fire

Turkey City, Dec. 20—(AP)—Flames believed to have started from a coal stove in the kitchen snuffed out the lives of two little boys at their rural home near here yesterday.

Clarion County Coroner H. M. Wellman said the victims were Lawrence Albert Bunch, 3, and his brother, Johnny Allen Bunch, 2, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Bunch.

The father was at work at the Knox Bottle Glass Company at Knox; the mother was at a barn, not far from the house, when the fire was discovered. The flames had gained such headway that Mrs. Bunch was unable to re-enter the house.

Dr. Wellman pronounced the deaths accidental. He said the cause of the fire would likely never be definitely known.

Ridiculous . . . certainly not . . . many of the best manufacturers have already turned to washables (and turned them out, too). Why? Absence of good materials for winter wear. Buying cottons off season gets exactly what they want . . . and it gets you more nearly what you want, too. Later, they'll seem as good as four-leaf clovers. You'll not be taking a chance on getting them . . . you'll have them by buying now. And what a grand gift!
